On Manslaughter Charge — Two Young Girls in Court—Man Was Fined $20 for Assault

The case of Avery A. Thresher of Wakefield, charged with manslaughter, was dismissed by Judge Knight in police court this morning. The defendant was charged with causing the death of Miss Ellen Teague at the corner of Chestnut and High streets by running her down with his automobile, but in view of the fact that the inquest had returned a verdict of no criminal negligence on Mr. Thresher's part, the complaint was dismissed.

8 YEAR COURSE FAVORED

For Grammar Schools — Strong Plea by Mr. Campbell—$71,000 Additional Needed

At a regular meeting of the school board last night it was voted to open a school for over-age pupils of that district in which are the Colburn, Charles, Cottage, Ames and Central street schools, while the board also instructed the superintendent of schools to look into the possibility of establishing an eight-year course in the grammar schools. A petition from the residents of Pawtucketville that a full grammar course be resumed at the Pawtucketville school was received and it is believed a new school building will be needed. Considerable routine business was transacted and the meeting adjourned at 11:05 o'clock. The board wants the city council to appropriate the sum of $71,000

STATE ACCIDENT BOARD

Commissioner McSweeney Gave Hearing at City Hall This Morning on Case of Dominic Tartatio

Mr. McSweeney of the Industrial accident board presided over a hearing which was held at city hall this forenoon under the workman's compensation act, the case being that of Dominic Tartatio vs. the Merrimack Woolen Co. At the close of the evidence the plaintiff was awarded eight weeks' compensation.

The arbitrators were D. J. Donahue for the employee and J. Joseph O'Connor for the insurance company representing the American Woolen Co. According to the story told Tartatio was employed in the card room of the plant of the American Woolen Co. in the Navy Yard, and is a resident of Collinsville. On Aug. 15 last, he claimed he was injured by a belt which struck him and threw him to the floor.

No one witnessed the accident, and the company, through its superintendent, Mr. Woodworth, claimed the employee was not injured, but was affected by the heat and lost consciousness, falling to the floor. On the other hand, the company also claims if the employee was injured it was through gross and wilful misconduct, and therefore he is not entitled to recovery.

Dr. Roughan testified as to the injuries received by the employee, and also as to the treatment given him. At the close of the hearing it was agreed by the arbitrators to pay the employee eight weeks' compensation, but another question arose, and that was as to the salary of Tartatio, he claiming he was receiving $14 a week, while the company claimed his wages were limited to $10 a week. This matter will be settled later.

Lawyer William D. Reagan appeared for the employee, while the insurance company was represented by Lawyer Doyle of Boston.

Letter of Sing Sing Convict Figures in Fight for Mayor's Chair in N. Y.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The mayor-elect Wilson and who heads the fusion ticket, and Edward E. McCall, chairman of the public service commission, the democratic candidate, have been plunged into a situation marked by unusual hostility to one another through the spirited attacks made on

McCall, on the democratic organization and Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, by William F. Sulzer, recently impeached as governor, and John A. Hennessy, who was Sulzer's official state investigator. Sulzer is

ARGUMENTS IN THE EATON MURDER CASE

Attorney Morse Claims That Admiral Committed Suicide and Asks That the Widow be Acquitted

PLYMOUTH, Oct. 29.—The closing argument in behalf of Mrs. Jennie May Eaton, charged with the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, was made today by William A. Morse. He had announced that he would occupy two hours in his efforts to convince the jury that the evidence had shown that Rear Admiral Eaton had himself administered the poison which caused his death.

In opening, Attorney Morse dwelt upon the tender moaning of the words "Going home," and added: "I hope this brave and patient woman is going home with us."

He told the jurors that even though they believed a defendant guilty in their own hearts they had no right to return a verdict of guilty unless the evidence has so proved.

"It is a fact," he said, "there is no evidence upon which you can find that this woman committed the act charged; that this woman is so insane that she could commit crime and not be responsible for it."

Woman who has loved too much, but of a self-sacrificing woman who has fought on until she could do no more.

Devotion to Daughter

Attorney Morse drew a picture of an unfortunate wife in her first marriage and of a loving and sacrificing mother. He recounted the incidents of her life as related by Mrs. Eaton on the stand, bringing out her devotion to her younger daughter, Dorothy.

The attorney declared that Admiral Eaton saw in the nurse engaged in his home at Washington a tower of strength and kept her there and that she went into the life of a man who was vile, corrupt and impure.

"Mrs. Eaton is a victim of circumstances which have brought her here," he said.

to be proud, whether she was mercenary or not," said the attorney.

Regarding the letters written by Mrs. Eaton and which have been entered as exhibits in the case, Attorney Morse argued that all were prompted by pity for the admiral. The admiral's letters which have been introduced were the product of a "vile mind," he said.

No Evidence of Suitor

The admiral, he said, had taken drugs to the end of his life. Attorney

Morse scouted the "wicked accusation of the government," that Mrs. Eaton had a wealthy suitor in Chicago.

"There is not a particle of evidence to support it," he declared.

"The government," Mr. Morse argued, "has sought in vain for a motive. It has selected a number and has asked the jury to take its choice."

DYNAMITE PLOTTERS ASK FOR NEW TRIAL

Petition of 30 Union Officials, Convicted of Promoting Explosions, Heard by U. S. Circuit Court

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Another chapter in the nation-wide story of the dynamite plots which culminated in the fatal explosion in Los Angeles in 1910 was written today when the case was called before the United States circuit court of appeals.

Thirty of the 33 labor union officials who were adjudged guilty with the McNamara brothers in promoting explosions ask that the present court set aside the verdicts rendered at Indianapolis last December and that they be given a new trial. Opposed to them, the federal government asked that the convicted men be sent back to prison at Leavenworth, Kas., to serve out their terms.

SCORES R. R. MONOPOLY

Candidate Walsh Also Advocates Reform of Taxation System and Urges Democrats to Vote.

TAUNTON, Oct. 28.—Denouncing the railroad monopoly and the unrestrained use of money for campaign purposes by his political opponents, advocating the abolition of party decoration at primary elections and a reform of the taxation system, urging the outpouring of democratic votes as a sign of approval of the Wilson administration, Lieut. Governor David I. Walsh last night finished a whirlwind tour of Cape Cod.

Mr. Walsh said in part: "There is no better place than Fall River for a candidate for public office to set forth the record of his political party and his own personal record in relation to the class of questions which were formerly designated as labor measures, but which nowadays come under the more comprehensive term of social welfare legislation; for here in Fall River a candidate has an opportunity to address an audience chiefly made up of factory wage earners who gain their bread by the sweat of their brow in the operation of great industries.

"I propose, briefly, to lay before you tonight some few salient features of the record of the democratic party in our state legislature in respect to the matters which are of such vital concern to you. I will also illustrate my own attitude towards this class of questions by referring to some of the measures with which it was my good fortune to be connected during my term of service in the legislature a dozen years ago.

"The history of the democratic party in the legislature for the past 20 years has been a record of continued and unremitting agitation for the abolition of labor and social service legislation. When those who are now claiming a monopoly of interest in the welfare of the toiler were either quiet or openly allied with the opposition, faithful democratic minorities were forcing to enactment the measures that have made Massachusetts foremost in the march of industrial progress.

"With one or two exceptions, these great measures which mark the course of social and political advancement of the nation were placed upon the statute books by the voice of these minorities, aided by the few republicans who refused to follow party leadership.

Some Accomplishments
"The act creating a board of arbitration, the employers' liability act, the act abolishing contract convict labor, the act to make labor day a holiday were unanimously supported by the members of our party and became law only after persistent agitation. In later years, the 54-hour law, the workmen's compensation act, the eight-hour law and the other measures so well known to you, which safeguard the health of the employees in great manufacturing establishments, were forced upon the books by democratic persistence and support.

"I am proud that it was given to me to have some part in this splendid story of democratic achievement. I feel great satisfaction in the knowledge that my voice and vote were given in my two years' service in the legislature to the support of those great measures, now approved by the whole people of the state, which were then being fought for by the democrats and denied enactment by republican majorities in successive legislatures.

"Everybody remembers the years of agitation which resulted in the enactment of an effective eight-hour law for public employees. This bill was also vetoed by a republican governor, and upon the issue raised he was defeated for re-election. The bill received strong support in the legislature of 1900, and if you will examine the record you will find it was numbered among its supporters."

HELD UP AT CROSSING
A freight train, backing and filling on the crossing on East Merrimack street caused a great deal of inconvenience to the drivers of vehicles who attempted to reach Belvidere or to enter the square from that section (this morning about 11 o'clock). Nearly ten minutes was consumed before any vehicle was able to cross East Merrimack street and the expressions freely rendered by the waiting drivers of carriages and autos would hardly be classed as a compliment to the railroad officials or whoever are responsible for the outrage.

FACE BROKE OUT IN RED SPOTS

Blotchy All Over. Became Scaly. Scratched Until Made Them Bleed. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Face and Head Cured.

24 Gilbert St., New Britain, Conn.—"My little boy's face used to get awful red and sometimes when I used to wash it it would bleed. Then it got blotchy all over and was horrid looking. His face broke out in red spots and then became scaly. He used to scratch them until he would make them bleed. Then his head started to break out. He was restless at night and complained of his face being sore. His head was all little cuts from scratching it.

"So I thought I would send for a sample of the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I only used them for a few days when there was such a change in his looks. His face began to get clear. When the sample was gone I got one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment. I washed his face with the Cuticura Soap and warm water every night and morning and applied the Cuticura Ointment for four weeks and his face was cured. I got another cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment and was only using them for two weeks and they made his scalp nice and clean. His head was cured." (Signed) Mrs. Isabelle Guenther, May 23, 1913.

For treating poor complexion, red, rough hands, and dry, thin and falling hair, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment have been the world's favorite for more than a generation. A single set is often sufficient. Sold by druggists and dealers throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

It was voted to reorganize the company under the laws of Massachusetts. Joseph de Champlain, organizer and a former president of the company, now a resident of Montreal, where he is engaged in the lumber business was present, and he gave a check for $10,000 in order to enable the directors to put the company on a good footing again.

The meeting was held at 230 o'clock at 757 Westminster street with Colonel William Marcotte of Manchester, N. H., president of the company in the chair. Over 200,000 shares were represented at the meeting, including about 12,000 from Lowell. Among the Lowell delegation present were Maxime Lepine and Edmond Paradis, who had been appointed to represent the Lowell stockholders; J. Athanasie Couto, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Deslandes and Blaisette and several others.

Colonel Marcotte gave a list of the company's property and said the same was valued at about $102,000. Speaking of the Manchester Coal & Ice Co., which is owned by the company, Mr. Marcotte said it was one of the best of its kind in New England. He told of the company's doings since it was organized a few years ago, and then he announced it was left to the stockholders to decide as to what course would be the most desirable.

At this point Mr. Joseph de Champlain, organizer of the company, and its first president, now a wealthy lumber merchant in Montreal, Que., arose, and he told of how the New England Investment Co. was organized by the poor people and for the poor people, and his intention was to have it continue as it was started. He said he did not favor the reorganization of the company in the state of New Hampshire, because this would mean a freeze-out for the small stockholders, inasmuch as no share can be sold less than $25. Mr. de Champlain suggested that the property of the company be sold and the company reorganized under the laws of Massachusetts, and at the close of his remarks he made out his check for $10,000 and presented it to the directors.

Mr. Lepine of Lowell spoke in behalf of the local stockholders, saying they did not favor liquidation, but did approve of the reorganization of the company. There were several other speakers and all were warmly applauded, especially Mr. de Champlain, who was given a real ovation. At the conclusion of the meeting it was unanimously voted to authorize the board of directors to sell the property of the company for no less than $10,000 and submit a report at the annual meeting of the company which will be held at the same place on Jan. 13, 1914. It was also announced that those who have received from agents of the company and who have not yet received their share certificates may receive the same by presenting the receipts to the officials of the company in Manchester.

At the conclusion of this meeting the stockholders got together at the same place and held another meeting, this being opened by Lawyer Oscar Moreau of Manchester, N. H., Alfred Bonneau of Biddeford, Me., was chosen chairman and Maxime Lepine of Lowell secretary. The stockholders discussed at length the conditions of the company and finally a committee of five was appointed to get in touch with the directors of the company and lawyer Moreau and a judge from Manchester and reorganize the company under the laws of Massachusetts. The committee consists of the following: Joseph de Champlain, Fitchburg; Jos. H. Clement, Laconia, N. H.; J. Athanasie Couto, Lowell; Augustin Fallaher, Woonsocket, R. I.; and Frederick H. Masse, Manchester, N. H.

It is believed that with the sale of the company's property the stockholders will receive about 25 cents per share, which were paid from 50 cents to 13 each. However, it is believed that the reorganization of the company will take but a few years before the stockholders have been reimbursed their full amount. The meeting was very satisfactory to the Lowell stockholders.

NARROW ESCAPE

Motor Cyclist Thrown From Machine on Central Street

An unknown motor cyclist had a narrow escape from a serious accident shortly before noon today at the corner of Central and Merrimack streets. Nothing but his presence of mind and the way in which his machine skidded across Merrimack street in an upright position saved him from a bad fall at least.

The motorist was coming down Merrimack street at a fairly good rate of speed and either did not notice the congestion of traffic at the head of Central street or could not shut off his power in time to stop. At any rate an automobile, two teams and a car effectually closed Merrimack street below Central while a car was just coming around the curve from Central street into Merrimack.

There was only a small space between the two cars but the young man on the motor cycle made the most of it. Barely slackening speed he rode straight at the opening and swung his machine about just enough so that it would not tip over and yet approach the sidewalk in front of Nelson's store sideways.

The machine had a basket attachment for an extra passenger and possible this fact helped to keep the cycle in an upright position. It maintained its equilibrium at least until the sidewalk was reached and then rider, basket and machine rolled on to the sidewalk.

The rider poked himself up before the several bystanders who rushed to his aid could reach him and did not appear to be injured except in feelings. The conductor of the car in the rear of the spot where the motor cycle crossed the street jumped off his car and attempted to get the name of the young fellow but was unsuccessful. The machine had a few spokes shattered and the basket was ripped from its position but otherwise the cycle looked to be all right.

RAP SCHOOL FADS

Educators Report That
2 Years of Life Are Lost
by Present Conditions

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Two years of useful life are lost to every American under existing educational conditions due to the increasing fads and furbelows adopted by the latter day schools and made part of their compulsory curriculum. This is the finding of a body of eminent educators, headed by President James H. Baker of the university of Colorado, whose report was issued today by the United States bureau of education.

"The great mistake in our education is to suppose," says the report, "that quantity and strain constitute education. Education is a question of doing a few essential things well and without overstrain. The college has committed a mistake in demanding even more in quantity than in quality produced under conditions of healthy normal development.

The educators, say the bureau officials, spent ten years in investigating conditions and would have the elementary education of the young occupy six years instead of eight. They would have the student pass through high school and college so as to be prepared either to enter the world at the age of twenty or, if desirous of taking up a profession, enable him to be equipped within two or four years later.

MIDDLEBORO, Oct. 29.—A story of the finding of a human hand related to the police by a young peddler has started an investigation here.

The peddler, Jacob Klamman said he found a package lying in the mud in Bridgewater just across the Middleboro line. When he picked it up and opened it he was startled to find a human hand, having on one finger a signet ring.

According to Klamman's story, a man and a woman came along the road just then and he showed them the package. He says they told him they would take it to a detective and he turned it over to them. The police have not heard from the man and woman and do not know what has become of the hand.

Astride the ridgepole he defied the patrolmen, who set a ladder against the house. Then he hurled several missiles at them and when they finally reached the roof he put up a strenuous fight before he was handcuffed. The officers had to carry him down the ladder. John was charged with being drunk.

HONOR TEMPERANCE WORKER

Probation Commissioner
Mulready Guest at
Banquet in Boston

Judges, State Officials
and Clergy Praise His
Work—220 Attend

BOSTON, Oct. 29.—Edwin Mulready, deputy probation commissioner of Massachusetts, was cheered again and again last night in the Somerset hotel at a reception and banquet given in his honor. Judges, state officials and clergymen united in praise of Mr. Mulready's administrative efficiency and humane treatment of delinquents and prisoners.

Alfred T. Donovan presided, Joseph H. O'Neil was toastmaster, and about 220 were present, including ladies, Gov. Foss and the other candidates for state officers sent letters warmly commending Mr. Mulready for his work. There were also similar communications from Cardinal O'Connell, Bishop Lawrence, Mayor Fitzgerald and Congressmen Curley, Murray and Gilmore. After a welcome had been extended by Chairman Donovan to Mr. and Mrs. Mulready, Associate Justice Charles A. DeCourcy of the supreme judicial court voiced the opinion of the gathering, the city and the state by saying that "if the probation system in Massachusetts is the best in the world today, it is due more to Mr. Mulready than to any other causes combined. The fact," he proceeded, "that the probation officers of Massachusetts turned from opposition to support of the state board and helped in the legislation which made it possible is due to the guest of this evening. The man in Massachusetts who had the qualifications needed to bring the necessary influence on the probation officers, on the members of the judiciary and on the great public was Edwin Mulready.

Greetings from Cardinal

The Rev. John S. Cummings of Roslindale, who spoke as the representative of Cardinal O'Connell, alluded to the recent selection of Mr. Mulready by President Wilson to represent this country in Italy at the international congress on alcoholism. "The thought that we all have at this meeting," said Fr. Cummings, is that of the common bond which links us together—the bond of the simple, personal, moral merit of one man. Thanks, largely to him, we no longer have the old swift punishment of the offender, but a progressive system of probation. In Cardinal O'Connell's name, I bid him welcome and godspeed."

Justice John D. McLaughlin of the superior court said: "It certainly would be distinction for any man to achieve in any one department the success which Mr. Mulready has in many. Whether it was in temperance reform, prison reform, the relief of the poor or in the matter of probation for criminal offenders, Mr. Mulready has seen the conditions from many points of view and has gone forth to his task feeling nothing was indifferent to him. For many years after probation was adopted in this commonwealth it was perfunctory in some respects. Mr. Mulready has instilled into the minds of the probation officers that in any given case failure is likely to result unless the officer actively and earnestly co-operates with his subject and uses every means to assist his subject to save himself."

Wilfred Bolster, chief justice of the municipal court, Frank L. Randall, chairman of the prison commission and Felix M. McGarrick, ex-district attorney of Suffolk county also spoke praising the modesty of Mr. Mulready, his honesty and devotion to duty.

CHAS. MARINEL WILL RECOVER

Charles W. Marinel, the Tyngsboro man who was so badly beaten with a sandbag Sunday night, is improving steadily and his physician, Dr. Lambert, is now certain that his patient will fully recover from his injuries.

Mr. Marinel talked coherently of the assault today for the first time since it occurred. The young man now says that, although he cannot identify any of his assailants he is absolutely certain that one of them wore a raincoat. This is practically all that he can positively state about the men who committed the brutal assault.

The Tyngsboro police are working in co-operation with Officer Silas Smith of the state police and results are looked for within the next few days. Neither the state officer nor the Tyngsboro police will talk on the matter except to say that they are certain to apprehend the desperadoes within a few days.

CHAUFFEUR LOUGH

Had Hearing, Before State Highway Commission on Retention of His License

John T. Lough, of this city, the chauffeur who on Sept. 13, accidentally killed James Higgins with his automobile in an accident which occurred at the corner of West Sixth and Bridge streets, was this morning given a hearing by the Massachusetts highway commission as to whether or not his chauffeur's license should be revoked. The hearing was held in Ford building, Boston, at 10 o'clock and Mr. Lough was represented by Lawyer Frank Goldman. The witnesses heard were Mr. Samuel Fleming and Mr. Lough. According to the law, a chauffeur's license can be revoked by the commission when it sees fit, if the chauffeur meets with a serious accident while operating a car. Mr. Lough's license was suspended immediately after the accident. The commission held its decision to a later date.

PRESCRIPTION AIDS
CHRONIC SUFFERERS

Sickness Caused By Impure Blood is Easily Relieved

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, a doctor's prescription of many years, are a tonic that have been of the greatest benefit in obstinate diseases caused by impure blood. These pills build up the blood; the restored blood burns up the poisons and normal health follows. In no disease does the blood show more altering, and thinning, than in rheumatism. No permanent relief is possible until the blood is restored, and the rheumatic poisons are cast out.

Good digestion is impossible without a supply of rich red blood. When the blood is thin and poor, the food remains undigested in the stomach and ferments, causing gas on the stomach. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make the blood rich and red and the stomach trouble disappears.

A TRIANGULAR BATTLE FOR NEW JERSEY GOVERNORSHIP

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 29.—The fight for the governorship of New Jersey has proved a spirited one. Three candidates are in the field. James F. Fielder of Jersey City, who succeeded Woodrow Wilson as governor, is running on the democratic ticket; E. C. Stokes, a banker from the southern section of the state, leads the republicans, and Everett Colby of West Or-

HEATING CONTRACT

Continued

When asked this morning why he did not present an order to the council meeting yesterday for the transfer of $500 from some fund to that of the band stand, the commissioner replied he did not know where he can get the money. He said he is in favor of erecting the stand if money can be found, but he does not feel that it would be right to borrow for that purpose. However, if some corner where $500 can be easily gotten, cannot be found, the band stand question will go over to next year, when an appropriation of $500 can be made, and the chances are that there will be no band stand on the South common until next summer.

Contagious Hospital

Hiram F. Mills of this city, a member of the state board of health, was a caller at city hall this morning. He called upon the mayor to discuss the matter of the selection of a site for the proposed hospital by a representative of the state board of health, as requested by the council. Mr. Mills told the mayor he wanted to get acquainted with the situation so as to inform his board, and it is probable an inspector will be sent to Lowell within a short time.

Traffic Resumed

The residents of Pawtucketville and the drivers of vehicles who have access across the Moody street bridge, across the Merrimack river, will be pleased to learn that the bridge was thrown wide open for traffic this morning after being closed for several months.

The opening of the bridge means a lot for vehicle drivers, who were forced to drive way around blammoth road or through Centralville and the Navy Yard. The bridge was open for electric cars Sunday morning, and that also was the first relief for passengers who were forced to walk the entire length of the bridge. The bridge is now in a very good condition with its reinforced concrete flooring.

Special Meeting

A special meeting of the municipal council will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, this meeting having been called by the mayor for the purpose of drawing jurors for the civil session of the superior court.

Street Department

With the completion of the Gorham street sewer, which took place yesterday, there is no interference with the paving of that street, and work will be pushed along rapidly. However, tomorrow morning employees of the water department will start work on the laying of a 12-inch water main from Congress street to Davis square, a short distance, and that will not interfere with the work of paving.

Mrs. William E. Sproule and not her husband, has taken out nomination papers for the school committee, while Mayor James H. O'Donnell has taken out his for mayor.

Eugene F. Toomey, democrat, has filed his election expense account with the city clerk, and his statement is to the effect that the sum of $19.20 was spent for advertising in The Sun.

Milk Inspector

Melvin Master, milk inspector, tells an interesting story as to how he was asked to analyze a certain quantity of sugar a short time ago, and after the experiment he found there was a mixture of sugar and salammoniac.

He said a woman called at his laboratory and after producing a small quantity of sugar she asked the inspector to analyze it. He asked the woman her name and where she got the sugar, but she declined to answer, simply telling him she wanted the stuff analyzed. She then said she ate some of the sugar and her tongue was badly burned by the stuff, and she proved her statement by exposing her tongue.

Mr. Master became interested and accepted the sample and went right to work on it with the result that he found that the sample was composed partly of sugar and partly of salammoniac. However, Mr. Master is not of the opinion that the salammoniac was substituted for sugar by the merchant, because this product costs as much as sugar. He believes the sugar and salammoniac were accidentally mixed, but it certainly is not a good mixture, for both don't go together.

EXAMINATION OF NEW PETITION REVEALS SOME CHANGES IN WORDING FROM ORIGINAL

CONCORD, N. H., Oct. 29.—Careful examination of the new petition by the state of New York for the extradition of Harry K. Thaw was filed at the office of the secretary of state in this city reveals some changes in wording from the original petition which Thaw's counsel are unable to understand. The new petition states that it appears "by the papers required by the statutes of the United States," a new phrase that Thaw stands charged with a crime for which the state of New York "requires" instead of "requests" as in the original petition that he be delivered over to its authority. The first petition was in exactly the form prescribed by an agreement among the states of many years standing. The new document departs from the usual form in the particulars named. It is also pointed out that the new petition bears the privy seal of Governor Glynn instead of the great seal of the state of New York, although it does not appear that this affects the standing of the document in any way.

HANS SCHMIDT TAKES FULL RESPONSIBILITY FOR COUNTERFEITING OPERATIONS

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Hans Schmidt, confessed slayer of Anna Ammueller, took the witness stand in the federal court yesterday and took full responsibility for the counterfeiting operations for which his associate, "Dr." Ernest Muret, is on trial.

"I made the money, I did it," he shouted, swinging in the witness chair. "It's no person's business why I did it. That's between God and me. Muret refused to help me. I bought the whole equipment."

"Muret had nothing to do with the murder of Anna Ammueller," continued Schmidt. "He never met her. I murdered her."

STRUCK BY SHUTTLE

WOMAN WOUNDED BY ANOTHER IN TREMONT AND SUFFOLK MILL

The weaving department of the Tremont and Suffolk mills was thrown into a state of the wildest confusion yesterday shortly after three o'clock when two of the women weavers got into an argument, which was finally settled by a duel between the two with the steel clad shuttles. Mary Powers received a slashed nose in the fracas and was hastily taken to the Lowell hospital, where over a dozen stitches were needed to close up the wound. The cause of the trouble was not known although a heated debate had been going on between the two for some time. The confusion was so great that no one seemed to know just what the woman's name was who dealt the blow to the Powers woman. The police were not called into the mill although the assailant of the injured woman may be arrested later. The wound on a more vital part might easily have been fatal.

REPRESENTATIVE OF STATE OF NEW YORK FILES PETITION BASED ON N. Y. INDICTMENT

CONCORD, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Bernard Jacobs of Lancaster, representing the state of New York yesterday filed with the secretary of state of New Hampshire a new petition for the extradition of Harry K. Thaw from the state of New Hampshire to the state of New York. The new petition is based upon the indictment found by the New York county grand jury last week. It is signed by Governor Martin H. Glynn and alleges conspiracy on the part of Thaw to escape from the Matteawan asylum. Attached is a statement by Attorney General Carmody giving the reasons why Thaw's return is desired, a certified copy of the indictment and several affidavits relating to Thaw's escape from the asylum.

DROP KIDNAPPING CHARGE
DUBLIN, Oct. 28.—The dropping of the prosecution of Mrs. Lucille Rand and of Mrs. Dora Hontefore was virtually decided on today when the case against them on a charge of kidnping Irish children came up before the police magistrate here. The two women had taken a leading part in arranging for the children of the Irish transport workers to be transferred to England to be cared for there during the continuance of the strike here, which started early in September. Their efforts were opposed by the Catholic clergy, who objected to the children being sent to Protestant homes.

running for assembly on the progressive ticket. Charles S. Whitman, district attorney, who was the leading candidate for the fusion nomination for mayor early in the fall, is running for re-election on the fusion ticket and has been endorsed by the democrats because of his notable record as prosecutor, which record includes the conviction of crooked financiers, police grafters, police murder conspirators, etc. Whitman is actively supporting the fusion ticket. Political wisecracks state that this campaign for the mayoralty is the most torrid one that has ever occurred in New York city, and it is freely predicted that the polls on election day will resemble some of the scenes that have been occurring below the Mexican border of late.

ALLEGED LETTER WRITTEN BY
EX-SENATOR STILLMAN
FIGURES IN CAMPAIGN

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—A letter of a convict in Sing Sing as given out yesterday by William Sulzer, deposed governor and present candidate for the state assembly on the progressive ticket was again today the axis about which revolved the heated controversy of personality and invective incident to New York's mayoralty campaign. From his cell in Sing Sing, ex-State Senator Stephen J. Stillwell repudiated the correctness of his written application for a pardon as made public by Sulzer. Parts of it, he said, had been "tampered with" and in this he was backed up by James M. Clancy, warden of the prison. Standing by Stillwell but denying he was attempting to shield "Tammany," Clancy promptly wrote out his resignation and sent it to the state department of prisons.

As given out Stillwell's letter was an application for a pardon in return for an exposure of "boss rule" in New York city. Speaking last night in Brooklyn, John A. Hennessy, campaigner against Tammany, told of a conference with Stillwell in prison, of Stillwell's boast that he could "put Murphy in jail" and could intimidate certain legislators and swing them in line for Sulzer at the impeachment proceedings.

However, according to Hennessy, Stillwell demanded his pardon first and no terms could be agreed upon. The fact that Hennessy even outlined what took place between them was credited today as having brought about Warden Clancy's resignation. J. R. Riley, state superintendent of prisons, was quoted here today as follows:

"Mr. Clancy told me Monday that the statements made by Stillwell to Hennessy were made with the distinct understanding that they should not be used under any circumstances until Stillwell was pardoned. It was agreed that Mr. Hennessy should be at liberty to use Stillwell's statement when the pardon had been granted and not before."

Warden Clancy told me that he would resign if Hennessy should break his agreement with Stillwell."

FOR WAGE COMMISSION

AND OTHER MEASURES OF INTEREST IN BILLS BEFORE CONGRESS—HOURS OF LABOR

Following is a statement of some measures of general interest before congress:

Senator Lewis of Illinois would create a wage commission for the entire United States, one member in each to be made by the president and confirmed by the senate. This commission, consisting of more than 400 members, would be divided into twelve circuits and would have authority to adjust claims by employers for higher wages, more remunerative labor and would fix a minimum wage.

Appeal from the ruling of commissioners would be allowed to state or federal courts. The act forbids retaliatory measures on the part of employers against employees for recourse to any commissioner and in case of recalcitrant employers would impose a fine equal to the wage fixed by the commission and that formerly received by the employee during entire period of service. The commissioners would have power to issue subpoenas, with somewhat limited scope of authority. The appropriation for the purpose of the bill is $500,000.

Commission on Controversies

Senator Townsend of Michigan, in S. 355 "To provide for an investigation of controversies affecting interstate commerce and for other purposes," provides for a special commission of seven members, appointed by the president.

HERE'S
Do You Know Him?

JAMES F. SMITH

Doesn't seem very many years ago when James was our bundle boy. It was in 1904 that he cast his lot with the Merrimack Store and for the last four years he has been our buyer of Shirts, Gloves, Neckwear and Hosiery. And, believe us, there's nothing good or "snappy" that gets away from James when he is looking for new things for his friends who trade at the Merrimack Clothing Co. If you've wondered why it is that we are always just ahead of the other store when it comes to showing the new things, and why it is we have plenty of them when the other stores are shy, just give Mr. James Smith the credit.

Mr. Smith is a member of Knights of Equity and the St. Patrick's Alumni. He was also valedictorian of his class in the Lowell Evening High School.

Here's a Word or Two From Mr. Smith

To My Friends:—When you think a new necktie or shirt will brighten things up a bit, drop in and see us—we have the goods. As for gloves, hosiery or underwear, it's a pleasure to be able to handle such thoroughly good lines. I want to thank my friends now for the way they have stood by me since I have been with the Merrimack Clothing Co., and to promise them the best there is in furnishings every time they come here.

Sincerely yours,
JAMES F. SMITH.

We cordially stand back of any promise Mr. Smith makes about our furnishings. Our furnishings department is big enough to be a store in itself.

ident for the investigation of controversies over wages, hours of labor, or conditions of employment. A somewhat similar bill was introduced by Mr. Bach of Wisconsin, having the same title. The number of the bill is H. R. 3451, adding that the conditions precedent to investigation would be "interrupting the regular course of commerce between the states." The commission would report to the president and congress and make recommendations to disputants.

Labor and Wages

A number of proposed acts deal with hours of labor, the employment of women, minimum wage, contract labor by prisoners, etc.

The Kenyon bill, S. 223, is aimed to prevent the employment of females in factories, mills or manufacturing establishments for a longer period than eight hours a day, while the Chilton bill, S. 670 provides a minimum wage for women and girls of nine dollars per week for forty-eight hours when engaged in business that enters into interstate commerce.

Punishment Through Tariffs

A combination bill whose effects would be to increase the taxation upon manufacturers and also influence wages is involved in H. R. 4522, introduced by Mr. Tamm of Florida. The purpose of this bill is "to levy and collect an internal revenue tax from manufacturers of tariff protected articles, who do not pay living wages and maintain certain labor conditions in their factories." This bill in its enforcement, involves action by the department of labor in prescribing standards relative to labor conditions in all factories producing tariff protected articles. It involves also a prescription of that which is to be a living wage in each line of employment, and it would provide that an internal revenue tax equal to the duties paid on the tariff-protected articles be collected from American manufacturers who do not comply with the standard so prescribed.

Lafferty Bill Again

References to labor features as proposed by the legislation of the sixty-third congress would be "incomplete without drawing attention to the Lafferty bill treated under the head of "Industrial and Trade Commissions." In that bill, H. R. 4284, which would create an interstate trade commission, there are features prohibiting the employment of children under fourteen years of age or the employment of women and girls at less than six dollars a week. The bill also limits the working hours of employees to forty-eight hours per week.

Prohibiting Freight Effects

Consideration should also be given to H. R. 1795, introduced by Mr. Cullip of Indiana and appearing under the head "Prohibited Freight" in the general treatment of railroad legislation. The bill would compel all corporations running factories, mines or mills, to an affidavit semi-annually with the common carrier, handling the products of such corporations, stating that no children under fourteen years of age had been employed by such corporations during the period covered by the affidavit. H. R. 6146, introduced by Mr. Copley of Illinois and also appearing under "Prohibited Freight" involves many requirements relative to the employment of children and a prohibition of the transportation of the products of their labor by common carriers.

Limiting Labor Hours

During October Mr. Lafferty of Oregon introduced an additional bill H. R. 5826 whose title is "Limiting the hours of labor of persons engaged in producing interstate commerce." This would bar from interstate commerce all products of mills, factories and other manufacturing establishments in which employees are permitted to work more than eight hours a day or 48 hours a week. It involves all manufacturers and all common carriers in a mutual responsibility of a very far-reaching character.

FIRE PREVENTION DAY

Board of Trade Insurance Committee Acts—Ald. Barrett Talks of Improved Fire Service

The insurance committee of the board of trade held an interesting session last evening to make plans for an observance of "fire prevention day" which according to a recent proclamation of the governor, will be celebrated on November 9, here were in attendance at the meeting Commissioner Andrew Barrett of the water and fire departments, Secretary John H. Murphy of the board, Daniel F. Carroll, Fred C. Church and Henry A. Smith. The matter of insurance rates was also discussed.

Since November 9 is Sunday, the observance will take place on Monday, Nov. 10 with perhaps a special feature on Tuesday, Nov. 11 in the form of a lecture before the members of the board of trade and others by H. Wentworth of Boston, secretary of the National Fire Protection association.

Mr. Murphy produced the report which followed an inspection of the city regarding the fire protection, capabilities, etc., and he read through this while Mr. Barrett noted for the others, the improvements which have been made since 1908 when the survey was made by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. Mr. Church said that in view of the prompt compliance of the city with the recommendations of the board of engineers who made the inspection, the rates on fire insurance in Lowell are the lowest in the state.

Mr. Barrett gave a lengthy description of the improvements in the water service, the installation of new apparatus and the new reservoir. He showed how, through the new hydrants, the defect of one hydrant no longer affects a whole division of the system as was the case. Street gates are being placed at the hydrants and are proving very effective. He referred to the increase in the size of the mains in various sections, including Appleton street where the work is going on at the present time. More than 10 and 12 inch gates have been set in the past two years, he said, than had been during the previous 10 years. The old report did not speak in high terms of the financial support given the fire department. Comparing this condition with the present, Mr. Barrett said that Lowell stands forth in the commonwealth in this regard, which is considered a good showing. The methods of appointment were also mentioned in the 1908 report of the fire underwriters. Mr. Barrett said that the department is now under the civil service but that this is not an ideal condition by any means. He said a man might pass a fine examination about the history of foreign countries, and other general matters of education, but this does not qualify him as a fire fighter. By the civil service method there is the danger of strong and able men being replaced by others not as capable. There are additional permanent men in the department, he said. Mr. Barrett admitted the clause in the report which said that the distribution of the companies is poor. This, he said, is due to the location of the first houses. He said that the Division street fire would be better if located some distance farther along the street, and gave other instances. He said that the chemical service has been greatly increased in the past few years. The ladder service also is better and more efficient.

The equipment was reported as deficient in the report read and Mr. Barrett said that this has been remedied to some extent. About 100 additional feet of hose have been added this year and a length of defective hose returned to the manufacturers and replaced by new and better hose. The response to the alarms is good and the

It is around the episodes that occur during this rehabilitation period that the action of the play has been built. The company surrounding Mr. Cohan is the same that has assisted in the presentation of "Brooklyn Jones."

Nothing is missing from the presentation of "Come Back to Erin," the Celtic sketch being played at the B. F. Keith theatre, this week, by Charles Mack & Co. Personnel, scenery, ability are all much in evidence. Mr. Mack's charming conception of romantic life in Ireland will be kept in the mind of the audience. No man on the stage today knows Irish poetry translated into the terms of stage life any better than does Mr. Mack. His play is a delightful one. Original spectacle in which ballet and ballet dancing take a prominent part, is a real novelty. Miller and Lyles, a speedy pair of comedians, comedians, in one of the colorful whirlwinds of fun, and Ed. Morton, a singing comedian, has become such a strong favorite that it requires six appearances to appease audiences. Other acts on the program are: McDermott & Wallace; Grapho; Mr. and Mrs. Flynn in a sketch, and the Pathé Screen play for this week, "The Girl Who Came to Stay," which will be shown in advance. THE KASINO

Twelve bouncing Teddy bears will be given away Thursday night at the Kasino. Every Kasino patron will receive a ticket, and each ticket will have a number, and there will be 12 lucky numbers. As for the quality of the Teddy bears, it may be said that they are of excellent ancestry, and their behavior is exemplary. They are unusually large for their age, but despite their size, a child may handle them with perfect safety. The Kasino believes in the best for its patrons, and any person not satisfied with the bear gift may return the same for something of equal value. A new orchestra will play, and some novelties are promised.

THEATRE VOYONS

Tonight is the last chance that is offered to see the Kaleid production in three reels "The Vampire" at the Theatre Voyons. This picture is one of the biggest hits of the year in Lowell and its strong story and wonderful production merits every bit of attention it receives. The dance by Bert French and Alice Eis is most novel and a finely acted scene. A new orchestra will play, and some novelties are promised.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Lowell people will be interested in the announcement that all arrangements have been made for the opening of the Playhouse, Monday afternoon of next week. Under the new management, and with ample facilities to secure the best, the Playhouse will feature vaudeville and moving pictures, with innovations to round out the entertainment. The theatre is leased by Carl L. Braun, a Lowell man, and will be managed by J. H. Tebbetts, well known in theatrical circles throughout the eastern states. Mr. Tebbetts states that he will endeavor to give Lowell people more for their money than they have been in the habit of receiving, and he gives assurance that only the very best entertainment will be the rule at the Playhouse. "I believe Lowell people will appreciate good vaudeville and it is our plan to set a standard for wholesome entertainment that will give the Playhouse a name far beyond Lowell's boundaries," said Mr. Tebbetts yesterday. "We intend to secure the best available, and our booking will be through a New York house of recognized standing into which will be the best that money can buy, and I am confident that their worth will find immediate appreciation in Lowell."

The Playhouse will give three performances daily from 2 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon, from 7 to 9 o'clock, and from 9 to 10:30 o'clock in the evening.

LAWRENCE, Oct. 29.—Bahro Hiro, who was arrested here Monday night charged with the murder of Kassem Souleymann at Topsham, Me., left for Maine this forenoon in custody of Sheriff Wilbur Collier of Sagadahoc county, Maine. The local police at first suspected that Hiro might be connected with the quadruple murder in this city in the foreign quarter in 1912, but a woman witness in the case failed to identify him and Hiro has practically convinced the authorities that he was in Maine at the time of the tragedy.

DETERMINED HAVING ASSENTED TO POSTPONEMENT OF TUBERCULOSIS HOSPITAL IN WOBURN

At the hearing before the special committee of the house of representatives on tuberculosis yesterday, Dr. C. E. Simpson of Lowell, a state health inspector, positively denied having assented to the citizens of Woburn postponing the building of the tuberculosis hospital or dispensary. He showed from his reports that he had urged the city to take action in the matter of protection against the constantly increasing tuberculosis danger and that last December the mayor was notified by the state board of health that the law must be complied with. According to Dr. Simpson, no reply was received to that communication.

Chairman W. T. White of the Reverse selection, Dr. F. F. Andrews, chairman of the Reverse board of health, and Dr. J. E. Lamb, health officer, testified before the committee that the state board of health has not sent them any notice requiring a hospital or dispensary, but on the contrary has assented to an arrangement by which tuberculosis cases shall be cared for in the Lynn hospital.

Chairman Andrews said he had opened his office as a dispensary and had failed to receive a single application. However, he promises that a dispensary will be fitted up in the basement of the town hall.

The authorities of the town of Peabody failed to appear and unless some explanation is received they will be served with a summons.

five stronger and agricultural man. Mr. Corkum was born in Nova Scotia Oct. 6, 1841, and at the age of nine he went to Maine where he started to earn his livelihood. After 30 years in Maine he moved to Everett, Mass., where he lived for a short time and married Miss Carrie Mann, coming to Billerica a few years later. Since that time he has been active in town affairs and has been one of the most reliable speakers at all public meetings. He took part in many debates at both town and state grange meetings and has addressed many gatherings of other societies. For the last 50 years of his life he was a member of the Sons of Temperance and he was well known as an advocate of temperance, both in this state and in Maine. At one time he was grand worthy patriarch of Massachusetts in the Temperance order, and has held many other offices. He was also a member of Washington lodge, F. A. M., of Lubec, Me., and Billerica grange, 223.

Besides his wife, he leaves eight children in Billerica and two married sons, Warren E. of Newton, and Chesley D. of Everett; five grandchildren, four brothers, Joseph A. and Marshall D. of Everett; J. P. and Clement C. of Nova Scotia, and one sister, Mrs. Fred Woods, of Medford.

The meeting was an interesting one and the plans for the great class initiation on the second Sunday in November were discussed in an enthusiastic manner. Worthy President Edward S. Flanagan spoke for a few moments, offering suggestions and inspiring the members toward the goal that is being worked for—the building of a permanent home for the organization. He declared that at no time did the goal seem to be nearer than at present and urged cooperation among the members toward that end.

"JAKE" CULLEN INJURED

Breaks Collar Bone in the Lowell-Malden Game — Will Probably be Out for Remainder of Season

"Jake" Cullen, captain of Lowell high football team and one of the greatest tackles ever developed in the Kirk street school, received a broken collar bone yesterday in the game between Lowell and Malden high schools. The injury will undoubtedly keep him out of the game for the remainder of the season.

Yesterday's accident is the heaviest blow that the local team could expect.

CAPT. JAKE CULLEN, L. H. S. Football Team

At this time, "Jake" is not only a great lineman but his ability to keep his men on their toes during a contest has proved to be one of the factors in every contest that Lowell has had this season. It will be an impossible task to replace Captain Cullen in the line.

With the two big games coming very soon, Lowell will find it a hard task indeed to come off the gridiron with the scalps of both Lawrence and Haverhill hanging to her belt. With the loss of Cullen practically all hope of the Haverhill game is gone, although the team may take Lawrence into camp with a substitute filling in at left tackle.

The injury to Capt. Cullen came in the last period when only about two minutes remained to be played. Malden worked a wing shift several times during the early part of the game and Lowell did not seem able to solve it. With the line spread out and the centre at the end of the rush line, Cullen broke through and nailed the runner in his tracks. His tackle was perfect, but when he dove for the man carrying the ball his collar bone came in contact with the other's knee and the bone snapped like a pipe stem.

Yesterday's lamentable accident to Capt. Cullen brings home the well-known fact among college football trainers that no player should ever be allowed to enter a scrimmage without wearing a set of heavy shoulder pads. It is very easy to break the collar-bone or to injure the shoulders severely by a hard tackle and every player should be protected against this contingency.

THE N.E. LEAGUE

Magnates Met in Boston and Transacted Considerable Business

At yesterday's meeting of the New England league magnates in Boston the usual post season business of the league was transacted and matters pertaining to the permanency of the league were taken up.

The board of directors for the ensuing year were awarded to Lowell, Portland, Fall River and Brockton. A committee, with his highness Timothy Murnane, at the head, was selected to arrange an annual series of games with the winner of the New England league and the head of the percentage column in the Eastern association.

Fred Lake, former Lowell magnate and ex-manager of both Boston ball clubs, was given a ten days' option on the New Bedford franchise. Lake will go through with his plans for a New England league club, it is said, if the price is satisfactory.

It was put to a vote and carried, that the rule which states that a game must start two hours before sundown shall not apply to double headers. Jess Burket sat back and grinned himself sick while this motion was under discussion. It is Jawn O'Brien had been present he would doubtless have done a more amiable grinning stunt for the day is still fresh in his memory when he pulled his Fall River club off the Worcester diamond on account of a few minutes difference between the start of the second game of a scheduled double header and the two hours necessary to exist before sundown. It was voted to convene the next meeting of the league on the afternoon of Dec. 4.

BARACA LEAGUE SEASON

OPENED LAST EVENING—TWO GAMES ROLLED OFF ON THE BRUNSWICK ALLEYS

The Baraca Bowling league opened its winter season last night, two games being rolled off on the Brunswick alleys. The first Baptist rollers won easily from the Immanuel Baptist quietest and the Trinitarian Congregational team outrolled the five from St. Paul's M. E. church.

Kilpatrick of the Trinitarians put up the highest single as well as total for the evening. His second string was 115, a mark which is seldom reached at this time in the season, and his score for the three strings was 302. Burr, of the St. Paul five, was second-high man with two strings of 95 and a 90. The scores:

GUS LENNY WON

Beat Phelix McGuire at Newburyport—Will Come Here Friday

NEWBURYPORT, Oct. 28.—At the opening show of the season at the N. A. C. hall last night two good bouts were staged and the main event between Gus Lenny of Boston and Phelix McGuire of Beverly went the scheduled eight rounds, although Lenny came near ending this bout in the seventh.

Lenny's work was superior to his opponent, although McGuire showed flashes of brilliant fighting at times. Lenny was given the decision.

In the semi-final the members were treated to a fast bout, when Billy Edwards of Lawrence and Danny Gardner of South Boston went six rounds to a draw. Gardner gave a fine exhibition in the last two rounds, showing unexpected comeback form.

LENNY HERE FRIDAY
The matchmaker of the Lowell Athletic club has booked an all-star show for this week. As most all the boys booked this week have appeared on previous occasions, the members know just what to expect from them.

As Billy Brooks has been defeating all the local boys his weight with ease, it was necessary for the management to look out of town for a boy who could give him a good contest. Frankie Quinn of Lawrence has been secured and if all reports are true, Quinn should give a good account of himself in the first bout of six rounds with Brooks. The second bout of eight rounds will bring together Eddie Carr of Beachmont and Brennan of Lowell. Larry Burns of Lawrence, one of the best boys of his weight, will stack up against Tommy McFarland in the third bout of eight rounds.

The final bout of 12 rounds will introduce a new face to local fans in the person of Charles Sheppard of New York. He has fought all the leading boys his weight around New York and has an excellent string of victories to his credit. Several weeks ago he outpointed Joe Morgan at Manchester. Gus Lenny of Boston will be Sheppard's opponent. These two boys recently fought a draw at Newburyport in a whirlwind bout and as each claimed a victory in the above excellent program there will be a three-round exhibition bout between two clever local youngsters.

MALDEN WINS

Lowell High Beaten in Close Game — Score From Blocked Kick

Lowell high met defeat yesterday afternoon at the hands of the fast Malden high team by the close score of 2 to 0 in a game which was hotly contested from start to finish. Although the ball was in Lowell's territory most of the time the local team showed flashes of superior form over their opponents and if it had not been for a blocked punt in the third period the game would have ended in a scoreless tie.

Captain Cullen and Moehre played a hard, consistent tackle game. The Lowell leader received a broken collar-bone in the last period. The work of both tackles was excellent.

The Malden boys played great football on the defense, stopping the majority of Lowell's plays in the last two periods. Brunelle, Bowers and Bennett pierced the Malden line many times in the latter part of the game only to be met with stonewall opposition by the opposing secondary defense.

The only score came on a blocked kick. Cahill dropped back to kick and before he could get off his punt the Malden line had broken through and was upon him. The Lowell end, recovering the ball himself, however, being downed behind the shadow of his own goal post. The play went for a safety and accounts for the two lone points in the Malden column.

In Hurley, Jeffries, Fitzpatrick and Norton Malden has a wonderful quartet of backfield men. If the Malden rush line was good as their backfield there is little doubt that the team would be the greatest eleven in the state. These players, in spite of the heavy going yesterday, tore off several spectacular runs.

Brunelle was the stellar performer for Lowell in the backfield. On the soggy field, covered with mud, Lowell's right half ripped off a twenty-five yard run that looked like a score for a few minutes and was only pulled down when his cleats refused to clutch the muddy playing surface. Brunelle's defensive work was also a feature.

The lineup and summary:

NEW INCOME TAX RALLY TONIGHT

Two More Sets of Regulations for the Collection Proposed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—There will be two more sets of regulations for the collection of the new income tax supplemental to those already promulgated and which related mainly to interest on bonds and other corporation obligations. The next set will cover collection of the tax at the source, under which corporations will deduct the tax due from their individual employees. The second set will contain general instructions for collections not already included in previous regulations.

Corporations are already preparing for deducting under the regulations as to collection at the source. Many interest-bearing coupons will be redeemable Nov. 1.

More than 3000 applications have reached the treasury for the 300 new positions created under the income tax law.

Democratic Orators Engaged for Associate Hall—Other Rallies

The democratic leaders will be quite active in Lowell and the neighboring towns throughout this week, and the citizens will bear the final guns of the party in the state campaign.

Tonight at eight o'clock in Associate hall there will be a grand rally, according to an announcement issued from the headquarters in the Associate building this morning. At this the speakers will include Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston, John R. Murphy, of Boston, Congressman Peters, and Joseph L. P. San Cocur, candidate for state treasurer on the democratic ticket. A whole lot of enthusiasm is expected to be turned loose at this rally. It will be a real treat to hear the popular mayor of the Hub. It was stated that Hon. David I. Walsh, gubernatorial candidate on the democratic ticket, and Frank J. Donahue, candidate for secretary of state, may arrive at the hall late in the evening and address the gathering. Mr. Walsh is at present touring elsewhere in the state and will, it is believed, make an especial effort to reach Lowell in time to speak to the democrats tonight.

MORE WEALTH

And New Opportunities Predicted Under Proposed Currency Law

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Increased wealth and new opportunities were predicted for investment bankers under the proposed new currency law by Edmund D. Fisher, deputy comptroller of the city of New York, in an address delivered today before the Investment Bankers association of America.

"The Glass-OWen bill will not prevent the investment bankers from borrowing money on securities during the time they are in his hands for placement with the ultimate investor," said Mr. Fisher, "but will remove the tendency to stimulate prices through a plethora of money market."

"Fairer opportunities through the development of business enterprise will come through a broadening demand for investment securities and municipal bonds will again take the place they once held in the investment market."

There will also be a democratic rally in Harmony hall in Collinsville at 8 o'clock this evening and on the list of speakers are William J. Corcoran, candidate for district attorney, John J. Hogan, candidate for council, Mr. Brennan, candidate for representative from that district, and Senators Fisher and Draper, candidates for re-election.

On Saturday night, there will be held open air rallies throughout the city and the surrounding towns at which the various candidates will speak.

This noon Mr. Corcoran and Mr. San Cocur addressed quite a large gathering at the gate of the Lowell Machine shops in Dutton street, discussing the various issues of the campaign and the position of the democratic party in the state campaign.

THE POSTOFFICE REPAIRS

WORK IS PROGRESSING VERY SATISFACTORILY—WILL BE COMPLETED BEFORE CHRISTMAS

The work of remodeling a portion of the second floor of the Lowell post office building is progressing rapidly and it is now believed that everything will be completed before the Christmas rush begins.

The partitions that separate the rooms formerly occupied by the deputy collector of internal revenues and the civil service examiners have been removed and the ceiling has also been taken down. It is intended to have an up-to-date room in this corner of the building to be used exclusively by the mailing division. This will give the carriers more room on the main floor and it is believed that the congested conditions will be temporarily relieved.

It is planned to have an iron stairway built from the main floor to the gallery and it is the wish of Postmaster Crowley and the employees that all the work be completed before Christmas.

STATE TROOPS

Arrive at Southern Colorado Coal Fields Where Strike is on

DENVER, Oct. 29.—The first of the state troops ordered into the strike zone of the Southern Colorado coal field by Governor Ammons arrived at Trinidad early today.

Before nightfall, it is expected the entire national guard of Colorado consisting of more than 1000 men will be in camp near Trinidad ready to preserve order around the mines.

President John McLeannan of the State Federation of Labor has issued a call for a mass meeting to protest against the presence of the militia, declaring all violence there was due to imported mine guards.

Early this morning wires between Trinidad and the mining camps were tapped by strikers, who answered all telegraph and telephone calls. It was rumored at Trinidad that Hastings had been captured by the strikers but the report could not be verified.

SPENDTHRIFT IS DEAD

"SPEND A MILLION" CHARLEY GATES, DIED SUDDENLY NEAR CODY, WYO.

CODY, Wyo., Oct. 29.—Charles G. Gates, the multi-millionaire, known as "Spend a Million Gates," son of John W. Gates, died suddenly yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the Burlington depot a mile from this place. Death was caused by heart failure.

Gates and his hunting party had gone to the depot to take a train for New York after 33 days spent in the big game country. Other members of the party are Morris G. Irving, Dr. Mothersell, Dr. Williamson and a Mr. Heister.

The hunt on which Gates and his party went ended eight days ago, since which time they have been at a rustic lodge on the road to Yellowstone park, or in town. At noon yesterday the party with servants and baggage were taken across the Shoshone river to the terminus of the Burlington, about a mile from Cody.

Gates was not feeling well and complained frequently. Suddenly he was gripped by a convulsion. The physicians of the party resorted to heroic measures to relieve him, but he died within a few minutes.

PORTLAND IS WIDE OPEN

LIQUOR DEALERS TAKE ADVANTAGE OF DEATH OF SHERIFF SCULLY

PORTLAND, Oct. 29.—King F. Graham of Westbrook was appointed sheriff of Cumberland county yesterday by Gov. Haines, to succeed Everett G. Scully of Portland, who died from heart trouble while on duty Monday night. Sheriff Graham was the prohibition candidate for the office a year ago and served as a deputy on Sheriff Scully's liquor seizing squad. It is necessary for the appointment to lay over seven days for confirmation by the council.

A carload of whiskey arrived in this city from Portsmouth, N. H., yesterday, and by tonight it is expected that between 30,000 and 60,000 gallons of "red eye" will have been shipped here to allay the Maine thirst.

The wholesale liquor dealers "took advantage of the death of Sheriff Scully to smuggle large quantities of liquor into the city. Under the Maine statute all the deputies went out of office automatically when the sheriff died, and so nothing was done to stop the shipment of the liquor. Immediately after Sheriff Scully's death the wholesalers had the wires between Portland and Portsmouth and Boston hot with messages. The first shipment of one carload arrived early yesterday morning and was quickly called for. The whiskey was "planted" in various places about the city.

Plea by Mr. Campbell — $71,000
Additional Needed

At a regular meeting of the school board last night it was voted to open a school for over-age pupils of that district in which are the Colburn, Charles, Cottage, Ames and Central street schools, while the board also instructed the superintendent of schools to look into the possibility of establishing an eight-year course in the grammar schools. A petition from the residents of Pawtucketville that a full grammar course be resumed at the Pawtucketville school was received and it is believed a new school building will be needed. Considerable routine business was transacted and the meeting adjourned at 11:35 o'clock. The board wants the city council to appropriate the sum of $71,000. Continued on page nine

Commissioner McSweeney Gave Hearing at City Hall This Morning on Case of Dominic Tartatio

Mr. McSweeney of the Industrial accident board presided over a hearing which was held at city hall this forenoon under the workman's compensation act, the case being that of Dominic Tartatio vs. the Merrimack Woolen Co. At the close of the evidence the plaintiff was awarded eight weeks' compensation.

The arbitrators were D. J. Donahue for the employee and J. Joseph O'Connor for the insurance company representing the American Woolen Co. According to the story told Tartatio was employed in the card room of the plant of the American Woolen Co. in the Navy Yard, and is a resident of Collinsville. On Aug. 15 last, he claimed he was injured by a belt which struck him and threw him to the floor.

No one witnessed the accident, and the company, through its superintendent, Mr. Woodward, claimed the employee was not injured, but was affected by the heat and lost consciousness, falling to the floor. On the other hand, the company also claims if the employee was injured it was through gross and wilful misconduct, and therefore he is not entitled to recovery.

Dr. Roughan testified as to the injuries received by the employee, and also as to the treatment given him. At the close of the hearing it was agreed by the arbitrators to pay the employee eight weeks' compensation, but another question arose, and that was as to the salary of Tartatio, he claiming he was receiving $14 a week, while the company claimed his wages were limited to $10 a week. This matter will be settled later.

Lawyer William D. Reagan appeared for the employee, while the insurance company was represented by Lawyer Doyle of Boston.

ARGUMENTS IN THE EATON MURDER CASE

Attorney Morse Asks That the Widow
Be Acquitted.—Dist. Atty. Barker
Urges Conviction

PLYMOUTH, Oct. 29.—The closing argument in behalf of Mrs. Jennie May Eaton, charged with the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, was made today by William A. Morse. He had announced that he would occupy two hours in his efforts to convince the jury that the evidence had shown that Rear Admiral Eaton had himself administered the poison which caused his death.

In opening, Attorney Morse dwelt upon the tender meaning of the words "Going home," and added: "I hope this brave and patient woman is going home with us."

He told the jurors that even though they believed a defendant guilty in their own hearts they had no right to return a verdict of guilty unless the evidence has so proved.

"It is a fact," he said, "there is no evidence upon which you can find that this woman committed the act charged; that this woman is so innocent that she could commit crime and not be responsible for it."

Mr. Morse laid much stress on the fact that the defendant had chosen to appear on the stand.

"The story of the life of Jennie Eaton," he said, "is not the story of a woman who has loved too much, but of a self-sacrificing woman who has fought on until she could do no more."

Devotion to Daughter

Attorney Morse drew a picture of an unfortunate wife in her first marriage and of a loving and sacrificing mother. He recounted the incidents of her life as related by Mrs. Eaton on the stand, bringing out her devotion to her younger daughter, Dorothy.

The attorney declared that Admiral Eaton saw in the nurse engaged in his home at Washington a tower of strength and kept her there and that she went into the life of a man who was vile, corrupt and impure.

"Mrs. Eaton is a victim of circumstances which have brought her here," he said.

Admiral Eaton was intemperate and possessed of a mind that was vile, but with a polished exterior, Attorney Morse said. As a contrast to what he characterized as the admiral's ingratitude in failing to pay honest debts, counsel cited Mrs. Eaton's act in cancelling debts for physicians' attendance on her husband by payments in eggs and farm produce.

"Here is a woman of whom we ought to be proud, whether she was mercenary or not," said the attorney.

Regarding the letters written by Mrs. Eaton and which have been entered as exhibits in the case, Attorney Morse argued that all were prompted by pity for the admiral. The admiral's letters which have been introduced were the product of a vile mind, he said.

No Evidence of Suffer

The admiral, he said, had taken drugs to the end of his life. Attorney Morse scouted the "wicked accusation of the government," that Mrs. Eaton had a wealthy suitor in Chicago.

"There is not a particle of evidence to support it," he declared.

"The government," Mr. Morse argued, "has sought in vain for a motive. It has selected a number and has asked the jury to take its choice."

Eaton Was Happy

The lawyer said that there had not been a single witness who had seen Admiral and Mrs. Eaton other than happy and affectionate toward each other. He explained June's absence from the Assinippi home by saying that the elder daughter objected to the admiral's treatment of her and she did not remain away because the admiral wished it.

"Are you going to say that this defendant was possessed of hallucinations?" asked Mr. Morse, "when one of the greatest admirals of the navy (referring to Admiral Clark) said that Admiral Eaton confessed to him the use of drugs and other officers of the navy testified to their observance of such use?"

In closing Mr. Morse declared that in spite of a country-wide search by the officer they have been unable to find a trace of any sale of poison to Mrs. Eaton and this," he added, "was because there was never a drop of poison in her hands."

He said he could not guess the cause of Admiral Eaton's death and he cautioned the jurors that they had no right to guess when the life of Mrs. Eaton hung on the result.

Mr. Morse ended his argument at 1 p. m.

District Attorney Barker

"Mr. Morse appealed to your sympathy, I appeal to your sense of justice," said District Attorney Barker in beginning the closing argument for the commonwealth. He spoke of the necessity which forced him to pit a daughter against her mother and a mother against her daughter, and expressed the hope he would never be called upon to go through the same experience again.

"If you find that we failed to convince you that this woman failed to do the act charged, then acquit her," the prosecutor exclaimed.

Mr. Barker told the jury that they should find Mrs. Eaton not guilty on account of insanity, if they should decide that she killed her husband while acting under an irresponsible impulse, and that they should return a verdict of guilty if they decided that she committed the murder with a sane mind.

SUPERIOR COURT CASES

Verdict for Connors Bros. Against
Y. M. C. A.—Ella Hunt Sues for Alleged Damages

The suit of William Burke vs. city of Lowell, which has been on trial for some time before Judge Chase at the superior civil court, was settled by agreement by the attorneys, William Hogan for the plaintiff and J. Joseph Hennessy, city solicitor, for the defendant. At the office of the city solicitor in city hall, it was said that the plaintiff, Mr. Burke, was allowed $800 by the city.

$40,000.04 Verdict For Plaintiff

The suit of Connors Brothers vs. the Young Men's Christian association of Lowell, for the recovery of the amount of a promissory note which the plaintiff says is due from the defendant, was called this morning and a jury impaneled. Albert S. Howard of Qua, Howard and Rogers, addressed the jury, calling the facts as claimed by plaintiff in each suit. Mr. Howard said the note was given and not paid, and that the plaintiffs sue for the amount with interest. He introduced the original note in evidence.

Mr. F. E. Dunbar who represented the defense, in a few words, explained that the defense admitted the note to be genuine and that the Y. M. C. A. owed it the above amount. He said that the court would instruct the jury on the matter. Judge Chase then spoke to the jury, directing them to return a verdict for the plaintiff, which they did without leaving their places in the court room. The amount named was $40,000.04. The entire proceeding occupied but a few moments.

New Case Called

The next cases to be called for trial were the suits of Ella Hunt vs. J. L. Calhoun Co.; same vs. F. E. Nelson Co.; same vs. Abernath Construction Co., the three to be tried as one. Qua, Howard and Rogers represent the plaintiff in each suit. Mr. Howard handling the case. E. I. Taylor for the Calhoun Co., F. E. Dunbar for the F. E. Nelson Co., and N. F. Hesselberg for the Abernath Construction Co.

Mr. Howard presented the case of the plaintiff to the jury. In the declaration, plaintiff states that on or about Nov. 25, of last year, she was walking in a northerly direction on the east side of Central street near the junction of Merrimack street, and that while in the exercise of due care, she fell against a platform placed on the sidewalk by the defendants. She claims carelessness on the part of the defendants. Mr. Howard said that the platform was placed there to protect some concrete work which was being performed on the sidewalk. He said that the three suits were brought in case there might arise in the trial some question as to which of the three defendants was responsible, the Calhoun estate, the construction company or the Nelson company. The declarations of plaintiff were the same in each case. The defendants answer in all three consisted of a general denial of the allegations of the plaintiff.

The first witness was Mr. Putnam, superintendent of streets, and while he was on the stand, Mr. Howard read extracts from certain ordinances regarding the obstruction of the sidewalk. He questioned Mr. Putnam concerning the issuing of permits for this purpose. Mr. Putnam was followed by the plaintiff who in response to the direct questioning of Mr. Howard, gave testimony which was repeated in part of the declaration.

Mr. Clemens, a representative of the Abernath Construction company, was called to the stand at the opening of the superior court this afternoon and testified as to his conversation with F. E. Nelson, regarding the work that was done at the entrance of the store. He said that Mr. Nelson did not want to have the sidewalk blocked on the early in the week and finished Friday night. While the corner entrance was being repaired the other two entrances were in good condition.

SET ON FIRE—EXTINGUISHED
BY LIFE SAVERS

Another attempt to destroy the cottage colony at Salisbury beach was attempted the other night when an incendiary set fire to the cottage and barn of Henry Noyes of Hampstead, N. H. The buildings were partly destroyed and had it not been for the prompt work of the life saving crew the blaze would have spread to the surrounding cottages and a conflagration equal to the one of a few weeks ago might have resulted.

He will be arraigned in the supreme court probably on Friday. An indictment for murder having been found against him by the grand jury.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE

James H. Carmichael called at the city clerk's office this afternoon and took out nomination papers for city commissioner.

There was a misunderstanding at the city clerk's office yesterday afternoon, when Omer J. Smith, janitor at the police station took out nomination papers for school committee. Mr. Smith took out the papers for Wolfred P. Calise, Jr., and not for himself, and he wants it known that he will not be a candidate for any municipal office.

DYNAMITE PLOTTERS ASK FOR NEW TRIAL

Heard by U. S. Circuit Court

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Another chapter in the nation-wide story of the dynamite plots which culminated in the fatal explosion in Los Angeles in 1910 was written today when the case was called before the United States circuit court of appeals.

Thirty of the 33 labor union officials who were adjudged guilty with the McNamara brothers in promoting explosions ask that the present court set aside the verdicts rendered at Indianapolis last December and that they be given a new trial. Opposed to them, the federal government, asked that the convicted men be sent back to prison at Leavenworth, Kas., to serve out their terms.

Having been in Lowell only once before she requested the conductor to let her off at Lowell. When the stop was made at Lowell, Mrs. Tillinghast who was in the car in the rear, looked out and saw only a shed and thought the train had stopped at some watering place. Twenty minutes later she found herself in Nashua.

She immediately hired an automobile and arrived in Lowell at 12:15 but too late to attend the rally scheduled. But Mrs. Tillinghast is made of the stuff that does not give up and seeing a large gathering of men in front of the Bigelow carpet works, she had the automobile stopped and spoke to several hundred men. A. S. Goldman who has charge of the various rallies, after apologizing to the audience at the Cartridge shop gate promised to have Mrs. Tillinghast present tomorrow at the same time and place.

SCORES R. R. MONOPOLY

Candidate Walsh Also Advocates Reform of Taxation System and Urges Democrats to Vote

TAUNTON, Oct. 28.—Denouncing the railroad monopoly and the unrestrained use of money for campaign purposes by his political opponents, advocating the abolition of party declaration at primary elections and a reform of the taxation system, urging the outpouring of democratic votes as a sign of approbation of the Wilson administration, Lieut. Governor David I. Walsh last night finished a whirlwind tour of Cape Cod.

Mr. Walsh said in part: "There is no better place than Fall River for a candidate for public office to set forth the record of his political party and his own personal record in relation to the lines of questions which were formerly designated as labor measures, but which nowadays come under the more comprehensive term of social welfare legislation; for here in Fall River a candidate has an opportunity to address an audience chiefly made up of factory wage earners who gain their bread by the sweat of their brow in the operation of great industries.

"I propose, briefly, to lay before you tonight some few salient features of the record of the democratic party in our state legislature in respect to the matters which are of such vital concern to you. I will also illustrate my own attitude towards this class of questions by referring to some of the measures with which it was my good fortune to be connected during my term of service in the legislature a dozen years ago.

"The history of the democratic party in the legislature for the past 30 years has been a record of continued and unrelenting agitation for the support of labor and social service legislation. When those who are now claiming a monopoly of interest in the welfare of the laborer were either quiescent or openly allied with the opposition, faithful democratic minorities were forcing to enactment the measures that have made Massachusetts foremost in the march of industrial progress.

"With one or two exceptions, these great measures which mark the course of social and political advancement of the rolling masses were placed upon the statute books by the voice of these minorities, aided by the few republicans who refused to follow party leadership.

Some Accomplishments
"The act creating a board of arbitration, the employers' liability act, the act abolishing contract convict labor, the act to make Labor day a holiday were unanimously supported by the members of our party and became law only after persistent agitation. In later years, the 14-hour law, the workmen's compensation act, the eight-hour law and the other measures so well known to you, which safeguard the health of the employees in great manufacturing establishments, were forced upon the hooks by democratic persistency and support.

"I am proud that it was given to me to have come part in this splendid story of democratic achievement. I feel great satisfaction in the knowledge that my voice and vote were given in my two years' service in the legislature to the support of those great measures, now approved by the whole people of the state, which were then being fought for by the democrats and denied enactment by republican majorities in successive legislatures.

"Everybody remembers the years of agitation which resulted in the enactment of an effective eight-hour law for public employees. This bill was also vetoed by a republican governor, and upon the issue raised he was defeated for re-election. The bill received strong support in the legislature of 1900, and if you will examine the record you will find it was numbered among its supporters."

HELD UP AT CROSSING

A freight train, backing and filling on the crossing on East Merrimack street caused a great deal of inconvenience to the drivers of vehicles who attempted to reach Belvidere or to enter the square from that section this morning about 11 o'clock. Blotchy All Over. Became Scaly. Scratched Until Made Them Bleed. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Face and Head Cured.

24 Gilbert St., New Britain, Conn.—"My little boy's face used to get awful red and sometimes when I used to wash it it would bleed. Then it got blotchy all over and was horrid looking. His face broke out in red spots and then became scaly. He used to scratch them until he would make them bleed. Then his head started to break out. He was restless at night and complained of his face being sore. His head was all little cuts from scratching it.

"So I thought I would send for a sample of the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I only used them for a few days when there was such a change in his looks. His face began to get clear. When the sample was gone I got one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment. I washed his face with the Cuticura Soap and warm water every night and morning and applied the Cuticura Ointment for four weeks and his face was cured. I got another cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment and was only using them for two weeks and they made his scalp nice and clean. His head was cured." (Signed) Mrs. Isabelle Guenther, May 20, 1913.

For treating poor complexion, red, rough hands, and dry, thin and falling hair, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment have been the world's favorite for more than a generation. It was voted to reorganize the company under the laws of Massachusetts. Joseph de Champlain, organizer and a former president of the company, now a resident of Montreal, where he is engaged in the lumber business was present, and he gave a check for $10,000 in order to enable the directors to put the company on a good footing again.

The meeting was held at 2:30 o'clock at 767 Westminster street with Colonel William Marcotte of Manchester, N. H., president of the company in the chair. Over 200,000 shares were represented at the meeting, including about 12,000 from Lowell. Among the Lowell delegation present were Maxime Lepine and Edmond Paradis, who had been appointed to represent the Lowell stockholders; J. Athanasie Coutu, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Deslandes and Bissonette and several others.

Colonel Marcotte gave a list of the company's property and said the same was valued at about $102,000. Speaking of the Manchester Coal & Ice Co., which is owned by the company, Mr. Marcotte said it was one of the best of its kind in New England. He told of the company's doings since it was organized a few years ago, and then he announced it was left to the stockholders to decide as to what course would be the most desirable.

At this point Mr. Joseph de Champlain, organizer of the company, and its first president, now a wealthy lumber merchant in Montreal, Que., arose and he told of how the New England Investment Co. was organized by the poor people and for the poor people, and his intention was to have it continue as it was started. He said he did not favor the reorganization of the company in the state of New Hampshire, because this would mean a freeze-out for the small stockholders, inasmuch as no share can be sold less than $25. Mr. de Champlain suggested that the property of the company be sold and the company reorganized under the laws of Massachusetts, and at the close of his remarks he made out his check for $10,000 and presented it to the directors.

Mr. Lepine of Lowell spoke in behalf of the local stockholders, saying they did not favor liquidation, but did approve of the reorganization of the company. There were several other speakers and all were warmly applauded, especially Mr. de Champlain, who was given a real ovation. At the conclusion of the meeting it was unanimously voted to authorize the board of directors to sell the property of the company for no less than $10,000 and submit a report at the annual meeting of the company which will be held at the same place on Jan. 14, 1914. It was also announced that those who have receipts from agents of the company who have not yet received their share certificates may receive the same by presenting the receipts to the officials of the company in Manchester.

At the conclusion of this meeting the stockholders got together at the same place and held another meeting, this being opened by Lawyer Oscar Moreau of Manchester, N. H. Alfred Bonneau of Biddeford, Me., was chosen chairman and Maxime Lepine of Lowell secretary. The stockholders discussed at length the conditions of the company and finally a committee of five was appointed to get in touch with the directors of the company and Lawyer Moreau and a judge from Manchester and reorganize the company under the laws of Massachusetts. The committee consists of the following: Joseph Normandin, Fitchburg; J. H. Clement, Laconia, N. H.; J. Athanasie Coutu, Lowell; Augustin Fabiner, Woonsocket, R. I.; and Frederick H. Masse, Manchester, N. H.

It is believed that with the sale of the company's property the stockholders will receive about 25 cents per share, which were paid from 50 cents to $3 each. However, it is believed with the reorganization of the company it will take but a few years before the stockholders have been reimbursed their full amount. The meeting was very satisfactory to the Lowell stockholders.

STRUCK BY AUTO

Thos. McNamara Was Knocked Down on Central Street

Thomas McNamara of 795 Gorham street was struck shortly after one o'clock today by an automobile owned and operated by A. P. Hatch. The accident occurred on Central street opposite the New American hotel.

Mr. McNamara was crossing Central street when the automobile driven by Mr. Hatch struck him. He was thrown to the street and struck his head with considerable force on the pavement.

The ambulance was summoned at once and the injured man removed to St. John's hospital. Late this afternoon the hospital authorities gave it as their opinion that the man was not seriously injured. A few minor bruises on his head appeared to be the total of his injuries although he received a severe shaking up.

Mr. Hatch immediately reported the accident to the police driving to the Market street station as soon as the victim of the accident was removed to the hospital. Mr. McNamara will probably leave the hospital tonight.

NARROW ESCAPE

Motor Cyclist Thrown From Machine on Central Street

An unknown motor cyclist had a narrow escape from a serious accident shortly before noon today at the corner of Central and Merrimack streets. Nothing but his presence of mind and the way in which his machine skidded across Merrimack street in an upright position saved him from a bad fall at least.

The motorist was coming down Merrimack street at a fairly good rate of speed and either did not notice the congestion of traffic at the head of Central street or could not shut off his power in time to stop. At any rate an automobile, two teams and a car effectually closed Merrimack street below Central while a car was just coming around the curve from Central street into Merrimack.

There was only a small space between the two cars but the young man on the motor cycle made the most of it. Barely slackening speed he rode straight at the opening and swung his machine about just enough so that it would not tip over and yet approach the sidewalk in front of Nelson's store sideways.

The machine had a basket attachment for an extra passenger and possibly this fact helped to keep the cycle in an upright position. It maintained its equilibrium at least, until the sidewalk was reached and then rider, basket and machine rolled on to the sidewalk.

The rider picked himself up before the several bystanders who rushed to his aid could reach him and did not appear to be injured except in feelings. The conductor of the car in the rear of the spot where the motor cycle crossed the street jumped off his car and attempted to get the name of the young fellow but was unsuccessful. The machine had a few spokes shattered and the basket was ripped from its position but otherwise the cycle looked to be all right.

AP SCHOOL FADS

ducators Report That
2 Years of Life Are Lost
by Present Conditions

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Two years of useful life are lost to every American under existing educational conditions due to the increasing fads and fashions adopted by the latter day schools and made part of their compulsory curriculum. This is the finding of a body of eminent educators, headed by President James H. Baker of the University of Colorado, whose report was issued today by the United States bureau of education.

"The great mistake in our education to suppose," says the report, "that quantity and strain constitute education. Education is a question of doing a few essential things well and without overstrain. The college has committed a mistake in demanding even more in quantity than in quality produced under conditions of healthy normal development.

The educators say the bureau officials spent ten years in investigating conditions and would have the elementary education of the young occupy six years instead of eight. They would have the student pass through high school and college so as to be prepared either to enter the world at the age of twenty or, if desirous of taking up a profession, enable him to be equipped within two or four years later.

A HUMAN HAND

Young Peddler Tells the Police of His Find—Investigation Started

MIDDLEBORO, Oct. 29.—A story of the finding of a human hand related to the police by a young peddler has started an investigation here.

The peddler, Jacob Klamman said he found a package lying in the mud in Bridgewater just across the Middleboro line. When he picked it up and opened it he was startled to find a human hand, having on one finger a silver ring.

According to Klamman's story, a man and a woman came along the road just then and he showed them the package. He says they told him they would take it to a detective and he turned it over to them. The police have not heard from the man and woman and do not know what has become of the hand.

Wakefield Man Cap-

Struggle With Police

WAKEFIELD, Oct. 29.—Wakefield patrolmen hope the police department will buy an aeroplane before it sends them on another mission like this one they experienced last night when they sought to arrest John F. Shea, John, who is a carpenter, is a good climber despite his 65 years. When he saw the minions of the law coming towards his house he hastened to the third floor and thence clambered to the roof. Astute the ridgepole he defied the patrolmen, who set a ladder against the house. Then he hurled several missiles at them and when they finally reached the roof he put up a strenuous fight before he was handcuffed. The officers had to carry him down the ladder. John was charged with being drunk.

HONOR TEMPERANCE WORKER

Probation Commissioner
Mulready Guest at
Banquet in Boston

Judges, State Officials
and Clergy Praise His
Work—220 Attend

BOSTON, Oct. 29.—Edwin Mulready, deputy probation commissioner of Massachusetts, was cheered again and again last night in the Somerset hotel at a reception and banquet given in his honor. Judges, state officials and clergymen united in praise of Mr. Mulready's administrative efficiency and humane treatment of delinquents and prisoners.

Alfred T. Donovan presided. Joseph H. O'Neil was toastmaster, and about 220 were present, including ladies. Gov. Foss and the other candidates for state offices sent letters warmly commending Mr. Mulready for his work. There were also similar communications from Cardinal O'Connell, Bishop Lawrence, Mayor Fitzgerald and Congressmen Curley, Murray and Gilmore. After a welcome had been extended by Chairman Donovan to Mr. and Mrs. Mulready, Associate Justice Charles A. DeCourcy of the supreme judicial court voiced the opinion of the gathering, the city and the state by saying that "if the probation system in Massachusetts is the best in the world today, it is due more to Mr. Mulready than to any other cause combined. The fact," he proceeded, "that the probation officers of Massachusetts turned from opposition to support of the state board and helped in the legislation which made it possible is due to the guest of this evening. The man in Massachusetts who had the qualifications needed to bring the necessary influence on the probation officers, on the members of the judiciary and on the great public was Edwin Mulready.

Greetings from Cardinal

The Rev. John S. Cummins of Rosindale, who spoke as the representative of Cardinal O'Connell, alluded to the recent selection of Mr. Mulready by President Wilson to represent this country in Italy at the international congress on alcoholism. "The thought that we all have at this meeting," said Fr. Cummins, is that of the common bond which links us together—the bond of the simple, personal, moral merit of one man. Thanks, largely to him, we no longer have the old swift punishment of the offender, but a progressive system of probation. In Cardinal O'Connell's name, I bid him welcome and Godspeed."

Justice John D. McLaughlin of the superior court said: "It certainly would be distinction for any man to achieve in any one department the success which Mr. Mulready has in many. Whether it was in temperance reform, prison reform, the relief of the poor or in the matter of probation for criminal offenders, Mr. Mulready has seen the conditions from many points of view and has gone forth to his task feeling nothing was indifferent to him. For many years after probation was adopted in this commonwealth it was perfunctory in some respects. Mr. Mulready has instilled into the minds of the probation officers that in any given case failure is likely to result unless the officer actively and earnestly co-operates with his subject and uses every means to assist his subject to save himself."

Wilfred Bolster, chief justice of the municipal court, Frank L. Randall, chairman of the prison commission and Felix M. Medetrick, ex-district attorney of Suffolk county also spoke praising the modesty of Mr. Mulready, his honesty and devotion to duty.

CHAS. MARINEL WILL RECOVER

Charles W. Marinel, the Tyngsboro man who was so badly beaten with a sandbag Sunday night, is improving steadily and his physician, Dr. Lambort, is now certain that his patient will fully recover from his injuries. Mr. Marinel talked coherently of the assault today for the first time since it occurred. The young man now says that, although he cannot identify any of his assailants he is absolutely certain that one of them wore a raincoat. This is practically all that he can positively state about the men who committed the brutal assault.

The Tyngsboro police are working in co-operation with Officer Silas Smith of the state police and results are looked for within the next few days. Neither the state officer nor the Tyngsboro police will talk on the matter except to say that they are certain to apprehend the desperadoes within a few days.

CHAUFFEUR LOUGH

Had Hearing Before State Highway Commission on Retention of His License

John T. Lough, of this city, the chauffeur who on Sept. 15, accidentally killed James Higgins with his automobile in an accident which occurred at the corner of West Sixth and Bridge streets, was this morning given a hearing by the Massachusetts highway commission as to whether or not his chauffeur's license should be revoked. The hearing was held in Ford building, Boston, at 10 o'clock and Mr. Lough was represented by Lawyer Frank Goldman. The witnesses heard were Mr. Samuel Fleming and Mr. Lough. According to the law, a chauffeur's license can be revoked by the commission when it sees fit, if the chauffeur meets with a serious accident while operating a car. Mr. Lough's license was suspended immediately after the accident. The commission held its decision to a later date.

PRESCRIPTION AIDS CHRONIC SUFFERERS

Sickness Caused By Impure Blood is Easily Relieved

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, a doctor's prescription of many years, are a tonic that have been of the greatest benefit in obstinate diseases caused by impure blood. These pills build up the blood; the restored blood burns up the poisons and normal health follows. In no disease does the blood show more altering and thinning than in rheumatism. No permanent relief is possible until the blood is restored and the rheumatic poisons are cast out. Good digestion is impossible without a supply of rich red blood. When the blood is thin and poor, the food remains undigested in the stomach and ferments, causing gas on the stomach. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make the blood rich and red and the stomach trouble disappears. Get a box from the nearest drug store. Start the treatment at once.

Belvin Master, milk inspector, to an interesting story as to how he was asked to analyze a certain quantity of sugar a short time ago, and after experiment he found there was a mixture of sugar and salammoniac. The wife said a woman called at his laboratory and after producing a sample of sugar she asked the inspector to analyze it. He asked the woman her name and where she came from, but she declined to answer, simply telling him she wanted to know the value of the sugar. He then said she was the wife of the man who had been burned by the stuff, and he fully corroborated her statement by exposing the language.

Mr. Master became interested and analyzed the sample and went right to work on it with the result that he found that the sample was composed partly of sugar and partly of salammoniac. However, Mr. Master is not of opinion that the salammoniac was introduced for sugar by the merchant, but that this product costs as much as the sugar. He believes the sugar and salammoniac were accidentally mixed, but he certainly is not a good mixture, if it does not go together.

EXTRADITION OF THAW

EXAMINATION OF NEW PETITION REVEALS SOME CHANGES IN WORDING FROM ORIGINAL

CONCORD, N. H., Oct. 29.—Careful examination of the new petition for the extradition of Harry C. Thaw was filed at the office of the secretary of state this city reveals some changes in wording from the original petition. Thaw's counsel are unable to understand. The new petition states that it appears "by the papers re-ted," a new phrase that Thaw was charged with a crime for which the state of New York "requires" instead of "requests" as in the original petition that he be delivered over to the state's authority. The first petition was exactly the form prescribed by an agreement among the states of many years standing. The new document differs from the usual form in the particulars named. It is also pointed out that the new petition bears the official seal of Governor Glynn instead of the great seal of the state of New York, although it does not appear that this affects the standing of the document in any way.

LETTER OF CONVICT

running for assembly on the progressive ticket. Charles S. Whitman, district attorney, who was the leading candidate for the fusion nomination for mayor early in the fall, is running for re-election on the fusion ticket and has been endorsed by the democrats because of his notable record as prosecutor, which record includes the conviction of crooked financiers, police grafters, police murder conspirators, etc. Whitman is actively supporting the fusion ticket. Political wiseacres state that this campaign for the mayoralty is the most torrid one that has ever occurred in New York city, and it is freely predicted that the polls on election day will resemble some of the scenes that have been occurring below the Mexican border of late.

ALLEGED LETTER WRITTEN BY
EX-SENATOR STILLMAN
FIGURES IN CAMPAIGN

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—A letter of a convict in Sing Sing as given out yesterday by William Sulzer, deposed governor and present candidate for the state assembly on the progressive ticket, was again today the axis about which revolved the heated controversy of personality and invective incident to New York's mayoralty campaign. From his cell in Sing Sing, ex-State Senator Stephen J. Stillwell repudiated the correctness of his written application for a pardon as made public by Sulzer. Parts of it, he said, had been "tampered with" and in this he was backed up by James M. Clancy, ward boss of the prison. Standing by Stillwell but denying he was attempting to shield Tammany, Clancy promptly wrote out his resignation and sent it to the state department of prisons.

As given out Stillwell's letter was an application for a pardon in return for an exposure of "boss rule" in New York city. Speaking last night in Brooklyn, John A. Hennessy, campaigner against Tammany, told of a conference with Stillwell in prison of Stillwell's belief that he could "put Murphy in jail" and could intimidate certain legislators and swing them in line for Sulzer at the impeachment proceedings.

However, according to Hennessy Stillwell demanded his pardon first and no terms could be agreed upon. The fact that Hennessy even outlined what took place between the two was credited today as having brought about Warren Clancy's resignation. J. H. Riley, state superintendent of prisons, was quoted here today as follows: "Mr. Clancy told me Monday that the statements made by Stillwell to Hennessy were made with the distinct understanding that they should not be used under any circumstances until Stillwell was pardoned. It was agreed that Mr. Hennessy should be at liberty to use Stillwell's statement when the pardon had been granted and not before."

"Warden Clancy told me that he would resign if Hennessy should break his agreement with Stillwell."

FOR WAGE COMMISSION

AND OTHER MEASURES OF INTEREST IN BILLS BEFORE CONGRESS—HOURS OF LABOR

Following is a statement of some measures of general interest before congress:

Senator Lewis of Illinois would create a wage commission for the entire United States, one member in each to be made by the president and confirmed by the senate. This commission, consisting of more than 400 members, would be divided into twelve circuits and would have authority to adjust claims by employees for higher wages, more remunerative labor and would fix a minimum wage.

Appeal from the ruling of commissioners would be allowed to state or federal courts. The act forbids retaliatory measures on the part of employers against employees for recourse to any commissioner and in case of recalcitrant employers would impose a fine equal to the wage fixed by the commission and that formerly received by the employee during entire period of service. The commissioners would have power to issue subpoenas, with somewhat limited scope of authority. The appropriation for the purpose of the bill is $500,000.

Commission on Controversies
Senator Townsend of Michigan, in S. 355 "To provide for an investigation of controversies affecting interstate commerce and for other purposes," provides for a special commission of seven members, appointed by the president.

HERE'S
MR. JAMES F. SMITH
Do You Know Him?

JAMES F. SMITH

Doesn't seem very many years ago when James was our bundle boy. It was in 1904 that he cast his lot with the Merrimack Store and for the last four years he has been our buyer of Shirts, Gloves, Neckwear and Hosiery. And, believe us, there's nothing good or "snappy" that gets away from James when he is looking for new things for his friends who trade at the Merrimack Clothing Co. If you've wondered why it is that we are always just ahead of the other store when it comes to showing the new things, and why it is we have plenty of them when the other stores are shy, just give Mr. James Smith the credit.

Mr. Smith is a member of Knights of Equity and the St. Patrick's Alumni. He was also valedictorian of his class in the Lowell Evening High School.

Here's a Word or Two From Mr. Smith

To My Friends:—When you think a new necktie or shirt will brighten things up a bit, drop in and see us—we have the goods. As for gloves, hosiery or underwear, it's a pleasure to be able to handle such thoroughly good lines. I want to thank my friends now for the way they have stood by me since I have been with the Merrimack Clothing Co., and to promise them the best there is in furnishings every time they come here.

Sincerely yours,
JAMES F. SMITH.

We cordially stand back of any promise Mr. Smith makes about our furnishings. Our furnishings department is big enough to be a store in itself.

ident for the investigation of controversies over wages, hours of labor, or conditions of employment. A somewhat similar bill was introduced by Mr. Esch of Wisconsin having the same title. The number of the bill is H. R. 3481, adding that the conditions precedent to investigation would be "interrupting the regular course of commerce between the states." The commission would report to the president and congress and make recommendations to disputants.

Labor and Wages

A number of proposed acts deal with hours of labor, the employment of women, minimum wage, contract labor by prisoners, etc.

The Kenyon bill, S. 223, is aimed to prevent the employment of females in factories, mills or manufacturing establishments for a longer period than eight hours a day, while the Chilton bill, S. 573 provides a minimum wage for women and girls of nine dollars per week for forty-eight hours when engaged in business that enters into interstate commerce.

Punishment Through Tariffs

A combination bill whose effects would be to increase the taxation upon manufacturers and also influence wages, is involved in H. R. 4352, introduced by Mr. L'Engle of Florida. The purpose of this bill is "to levy and collect an internal revenue tax from manufacturers of tariff protected articles, who do not pay living wages and maintain certain labor conditions in their factories." This bill in its enforcement, involves action by the department of labor in prescribing standards relative to labor conditions in all factories producing tariff protected articles. It involves also a prescription of that which is to be a living wage in each line of employment, and it would provide that an internal revenue tax equal to the duties paid on the tariff-protected articles be collected from American manufacturers who do not comply with the standard so prescribed.

Lafferty Bill Again

References to labor features as proposed by the legislation of the sixty-third congress would be incomplete without drawing attention to the Lafferty bill treated under the head of "Industrial and Trade Commissions." In that bill, H. R. 4354, which would create an interstate trade commission, there are features prohibiting the employment of children under fourteen years of age or the employment of women and girls at less than six dollars a week. The bill also limits the working hours of employees to forty-eight hours per week.

Prohibiting Freight Effects

Consideration should also be given to H. R. 1705, introduced by Mr. Cullip of Indiana and appearing under the head "Prohibited Freight" in the general treatment of railroad legislation. The bill would compel all corporations running factories, mines or mills, to file an affidavit semi-annually with the common carriers handling the products of such corporations, stating that no children under fourteen years of age had been employed by such corporations during the period covered by the affidavit. H. R. 6145, introduced by Mr. Copley of Illinois and also appearing under "Prohibited Freight" involves many requirements relative to the employment of children and a prohibition of the transportation of the products of their labor by common carriers.

Limiting Labor Hours

During October Mr. Lafferty of Oregon introduced an additional bill H. R. 5325 whose title is "Limiting the hours of labor of persons engaged in producing interstate commerce." This would bar from interstate commerce all products of mills, factories and other manufacturing establishments in which employees are permitted to work more than eight hours a day or 45 hours a week. It involves all manufacturers and all common carriers in a mutual responsibility of a very far-reaching character.

POLICE COURT

ella was charged with assault and battery upon Powell Gurlik.

The complainant, he with the broken arm, took the stand as the government's first witness and gave his testimony through an interpreter. The racket, according to his testimony, was forced by the defendant. He said that he had gone to the machine of the defendant and asked him to start it up as the rule of the oversey was never to allow a machine to remain idle. Words ensued between the two principals and an iron rod was brought into play by the defendant.

"He called me a—Pole," said the witness, "and then hit me over the arm for his iron club." Two witnesses, who claimed to have seen the fight, testified to practically the same sequence of events.

The defendant told an altogether different story. The complainant started all the trouble, he said, and witness was only protecting himself when he picked up the iron rod. "He called me a bad name and he kicked me, testified Brunelle, "and what could I do? I have to do something." Then the defendant stated how the complainant had first seized a weapon and attempted to strike him with it.

"I didn't hit him with it at all," said he, "I just broke his stick. He didn't get no broken arm on top of the fight. Maybe he got drunk and fell down."

The defendant's brother and the oversey also testified in the defendant's behalf but the evidence showed conclusively that the defendant had struck the plaintiff on the forearm and broken the bone. Judge Enright found the defendant guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of $20.

Two more young girls were in court today. They were both arrested last night, or rather early this morning. They were Ida C. Whitmore and Eva Frasher and they make the second pair who have been brought before the court in two days. The Whitmore girl is 22 years old and the Frasher girl only 18 years of age and is quite handsome. Both cases were held over until tomorrow so that their relatives may be notified to appear before Judge Enright. Etta McGovern, one of the

GAMBOA HOLDS BALANCE

MEXICAN WISEACRES AGREED
THAT LIFE OF HUERTA REGIME
DEPENDS ON HIS ATTITUDE

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 29.—Insiders in official circles here agree that the life of the Huerta regime depends largely on the attitude taken toward him by General Gamboa, who was a candidate for president at a recent void election. Gamboa is a thoroughly trained military leader and has strength in the army. If he joins in support of General Felix Diaz it is believed the combination would cause severe complications in Huerta's affairs. General Gamboa was formerly one of Huerta's close advisers.

MR. GARDNER'S SPEECH

Congressman Gardner's speech in this city Monday night was a general disappointment. The greater part of his time was devoted, as well it might, to an apology for the work of the republican party. He seems to realize that the republican party has been responsible for a great many political crimes, for the centralization of power in the mammoth trusts and monopolies and the consequent injustices done to the masses through the special privilege provided under the excessive tariff. It is true as Mr. Gardner says, that the surgeon's knife is needed and it is now being applied under the direction of President Wilson in Washington. One operation has been performed on the tariff and another is soon to follow on the currency. The logical conclusion that a disinterested listener would naturally draw from Mr. Gardner's speech is, that if the U. S. P. has been so very bad as he represents, and it certainly has, the people should have nothing more to do with it or its candidates.

Judging from some of the things that Mr. Gardner said, it is more apparent than ever that he was sent here from Washington to save the state for the republican party and to secure a victory that would rehabilitate that party, or at least enable it to re-elect a republican to the United States senate. Whether the fact that Mr. Gardner is the son-in-law of Senator Lodge has anything to do with his candidacy for governor, is not quite certain, but the people believe that this is the ulterior motive behind his desire to be elected governor. The republican leaders of Washington doubtless thought that Mr. Gardner had only to come down here to Massachusetts and "wallop" the other candidates right and left, conduct a personal campaign on his own platform and be triumphantly elected. Mr. Gardner and those behind him are going to be totally disappointed, for at this stage in the campaign he appears to have lost prestige instead of rolling up a popularity that would give him a chance of election. At the rally here he aroused no enthusiasm whatever, and if it had not been for Congressman Rogers' efforts, the hall would have been empty when the candidate arrived at 9.30. It was not nearly so well attended or so enthusiastic as the progressive rally and Mr. Gardner's efforts "to wake 'em up" were wholly fruitless.

It is quite apparent that Mr. Gardner is using the immigration issue to catch the labor vote, for the appeal was made directly to the tailors in the mills to oppose the importation of "1,000,000 cousins," as he put it, per annum to this country.

Mr. Gardner was in congress but he never did anything to lessen the flow of immigration to the cities of New England. This country needs all the immigrants and more, if they were properly distributed over the territory where labor is scarce. In this Mr. Gardner did not do his duty and he is, therefore, partly responsible for the conditions which he so vigorously condemns.

At city hall steps before the Gardner rally opened Governor Foss charged Bird and Gardner with conspiracy and demanded that both withdraw as neither, in his opinion, had any chance of election. He naturally feels that with both these candidates out of the running he would have a better chance of success in the contest with Hon. David I. Walsh. The governor's plea was a virtual admission that neither Bird nor Gardner can be elected and that with both in the field he himself has a poor chance of defeating Mr. Walsh. Most people will agree with the governor in this view of the situation, yet few, we believe, will sympathize with him in seeking a fourth term as governor. The outlook for the election of Hon. David I. Walsh is very bright as according to all the political prophets he is bound to win over Bird, who is said to be now more popular with the electorate than Gardner. The bitter personal attacks of Governor Foss based wholly upon his vivid imagination will not be taken seriously by democrats although they may mislead republicans who intended to vote for Mr. Walsh.

SUGGESTION REGARDING ULSTER

In a recent speech on the Irish home rule question, Premier Asquith, referring to the stand taken by the followers of Sir Edward Carson in Ulster mentioned the possibility of some arrangement being made whereby the malcontents of the northern province would be permitted in a subordinate way to manage their own affairs under the Irish parliament. This was taken by many to mean that Ulster would be permitted to remain outside the Dublin parliament and under the jurisdiction of the Imperial parliament. Now, however, it has been shown that such a scheme was never contemplated by the liberal party, as the first principle of home rule seems to be that nothing will be accepted which would affect the integrity of Ireland as a nation.

The position taken by Asquith has now been explained by Sir Edward Grey, speaking for the government. Asquith, it appears, is prepared to offer to the protesting Ulsterites a form of internal home rule which would give them control of their police, their educational system and their administrative appointments. While they would be subject to Irish home rule they would be safeguarded on the principal matters which they are unwilling to submit to the control of the majority. Sir Edward added to his declaration the significant threat that if violence is used to oppose the home rule bill, it will be met by violence, backed by the military force of England.

The opinion of John Redmond has so often been expressed on this subject of a separate government for Ulster that it is well known. He has declared himself ready to accept any reasonable compromise for the cause of home rule but he has repeatedly declared that under no circumstances will he accept anything which will affect the future union of all the Irish people as a self-governing nation. Following is an extract from a recent speech made by him in Limerick, referring to the proposed scheme for Ulster partition:

"It seemed to me that Mr. Churchill himself does not regard this suggestion as likely to lead to a settlement, because he spoke in his speech on the necessity of preserving and maintaining the national integrity of Ireland. But, fellow-countrymen, when a suggestion—no matter how casually put forward, or how badly supported—of the kind is made, it is my duty, I think, to declare that the suggestion is impracticable and unworkable, and to repeat the statement. I have many times made in parliament and out of it, that Irish nationalists can never be assenting parties to the mutilation of the Irish nation."

Any betrayal of the Irish party now, however, would probably change the temper of Ireland whose hopes have been so high for self-government, and wake a spirit of opposition that would revive some of the old hatreds and strifes. It would not take much to change the attitude of those who hope for home rule to a physical force policy if there is any postponement in carrying out the present program. If it ever comes to this, every branch of the United Irish league here would be a source of revenue for an Irish majority which would arm with real guns and demonstrate that a bigoted and unparliamentary minority could not, as it should not, be allowed to stop the onward march of a nation.

THE TYNGSBORO THUGS

Nothing more brutal has been published in the local press for a long time than the savage attack made on a Tynsboro young man last Sunday, apparently by some ruffians whose thieving designs on his property he had thwarted a few evenings before. There was a brutality, a premeditation, a cowardice about the assault which was evidently intended to end in murder, which stamp the perpetrators as a dangerous element in the community. The state police and the local authorities should leave no stone unturned to bring the guilty parties to justice. All decent citizens will hope for their speedy apprehension.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I had eczema for the last twenty-five years, and have been afflicted so badly that for weeks I could not go outside the door. My face was one mass of pimples, and not only the looks of it but the itching and burning pains I experienced were just dreadful. I lost a great deal of sleep and had to keep dampened cloths on my face all night to relieve the pain. I had become disgusted with trying different treatments."

"One day I made up my mind to try Resinol, and after using one jar of Resinol Ointment, and one cake of Resinol Soap, I saw the difference, and now my face is as clear as anybody's, and I certainly don't need to be ashamed to go out. NATIONAL BANKS

Chas. A. Conant Proposes Plan for Taking Care of 2 P.C. Bonds

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 29.—Before the Providence Economic club last night Charles A. Conant of New York, proposed a new plan for taking care of the two per cent bonds now held by national banks to secure circulation.

He declared that the principal defects of the house currency bill were the splitting up of reserves among too many reserve banks and failure to protect adequately the existing national banks in regard to the bonds. Mr. Conant suggested that the federal reserve banks provided for in the plan should take care of the whole of the $700,000,000 in two per cent bonds now held by the banks and should have authority to present half the amount to the United States treasury for conversion into one year certificates. The rate of interest on the new certificates would be three per cent, but the federal reserve banks would pay upon them a tax of one per cent, so that no additional burden would be imposed upon the public revenue. The banks, moreover, would enter upon an engagement to renew these certificates from year to year, at the pleasure of the United States, until their final redemption.

The advantages of this plan, it was declared, would be that the federal reserve banks would have at their command an asset which would be quickly convertible into cash in any emergency. If there was a pressure upon the gold resources of this country, these certificates could be discounted for short maturities with foreign banks, thus establishing a credit which would meet the demand for foreign exchanges.

"The conversion of half the bonds into one-year paper," said Mr. Conant, "would give a degree of fluidity to the assets of the federal reserve banks which they would not derive from the control of the bonds in their present form. The federal reserve banks would be able to substitute their own notes for the existing national bank certificates as rapidly as the old notes were received for redemption, the new notes being issued in payment for the bonds and the banks thus being relieved of all responsibility for the two per cents and of the risk of fluctuations in their value."

"The adoption of the plan would afford the new federal reserve banks an income of about $1,000,000 a year from the start, before they had discounted a single piece of commercial paper or paid out a dollar of the cash received in subscriptions for their capital and for the reserve deposits. This would ensure the payment of a proper dividend by the federal reserve banks, without question, and would remove any doubt as to the value of the capital stock. Obviously this plan would be safer and more advantageous if operated by four or five federal reserve banks than by a larger number, because these four or five institutions would be well known to Europe, and each would have sufficient resources and prestige to enable it to open credits throughout the world."

EDITORIAL COMMENT

POPULARITY OF BRYAN

Johnstown Democrat: Has Mr. Bryan lost anything in popularity? New Jersey testimony is very clear on this subject, the premier of the Wilson cabinet having been accorded tumultuous receptions wherever he appeared on his recent visit to the presidential home state. Yet New Jersey has never been known as a Bryan state. There, if anywhere, we should expect him to meet with indifference if not with actual hostility. But every meeting where he spoke was a thrilling testimonial to his popularity. This was cheered and cheered again. The message he delivered was received with every manifestation of approval. Evidently it will require something more deadly than grape juice to destroy his hold on the democratic masses.

FIRE PREVENTION DAY

Board of Trade Insurance Committee Acts—Ald. Barrett Talks of Improved Fire Service

The insurance committee of the board of trade held an interesting session last evening to make plans for an observance of "fire prevention day" which according to a recent proclamation of the governor, will be celebrated on November 9.

There were in attendance at the meeting Commissioner Andrew Barrett of the water and fire departments, Secretary John H. Murphy of the board, Daniel F. Carroll, Fred C. Church and Henry A. Smith. The matter of insurance rates was also discussed.

Since November 9 is Sunday, the observance will take place on Monday, Nov. 10 with perhaps a special feature on Tuesday, Nov. 11 in the form of a lecture before the members of the board of trade and others by F. H. Wentworth of Boston, secretary of the National Fire Protection association.

Mr. Murphy produced the report which followed an inspection of the city regarding the fire protection conditions, etc., and he read through this while Mr. Barrett noted for the others, the improvements which have been made since 1905 when the survey was made by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. Mr. Church said that in view of the prompt compliance of the city with the recommendations of the board of engineers who made the inspection, the rates on fire insurance in certain localities had undergone a reduction of 25 per cent.

Mr. Barrett gave a lengthy description of the improvements in the water service, the installation of new apparatus and the new reservoir. He showed how, through the new hydrants, the defect of one hydrant no longer affects a whole division of the system as was once the case. Street gates are being placed at the hydrants and are proving very effective. He referred to the increase in the size of the mains in various sections, including Appleton street where the work is going on at the present time. More than 12 and 16 inch gates have been set in the past two years, he said, than had been during the previous years.

The old report did not speak in given terms of the financial support given the fire department. Comparing this condition with the present, Mr. Barrett said that Lowell stands fourth in the commonwealth in this regard, which is considered a good showing.

The method of appointment were also mentioned in the 1905 report of the fire underwriters. Mr. Barrett said that the department is now under the civil service but that this is not an ideal condition by any means. He said a man might pass a fine examination about the history of foreign countries and other general matters of education, but this does not qualify him as a fire fighter. By the civil service method, there is the danger of strong and able men being replaced by others not as capable. There are additional permanent men in the department, he said. Mr. Barrett admitted the clause in the report which said that the distribution of the companies is poor. This, he said, is due to the location of the first house. He said that the Westford street house would be better if located some distance farther along the street, and gave other instances. He said that the chemical service has been greatly increased in the past few years. The ladder service also is better and more efficient.

The equipment was reported as deficient in the report read and Mr. Barrett said that this has been remedied to some extent. About 470 additional feet of hose have been added this year, and a length of defective hose returned to the manufacturers and replaced by new and better hose. The response to the alarms is good and the Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—That's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you see new hair—new and downy—grow all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

At the Opera House last night a crowded house greeted George Arliss and his talented company in Louis N. Parker's great play "Distracted." The play has had such a run in Boston that most people are familiar with its main features. The plot shows Benjamin Disraeli, Lord Beaconsfield, the Jewish premier of England, planning to checkmate Russia and France and to give England control of the Suez canal, thus establishing a high position and dominating the destinies of Russia upon that coveted colony.

The scenery with which the negotiations had to be carried on in the face of Russian and French opposition, and the failure of a banking house that had agreed to finance the undertaking, afforded ample room for the display of the great premier's ability as a statesman and for the introduction of considerable spice and comedy even in the most momentous affairs of state.

To those who even dimly remember Disraeli, the impersonation of the role by Mr. Arliss was wonderfully accurate and realistic. His acting was a masterpiece, the large edifying and imposing spectacle in some of the final scenes. The three leading ladies, Violet Hemming as Lady Clarissa, Margaret Dale as Mrs. Arliss, and Noel Travers as Florence Arliss as "Lady Beaconsfield," wife of the premier were all that could be desired. The Henry James play, "The Wings of the Dove," was also presented.

The climax in the play occurs when Disraeli, after a long and arduous struggle, announces the canal deal closed. Then Oscar Wilde as Hugh Meyers announces his house in bankruptcy, and again Disraeli, in a close and exciting scene, is victorious.

Mr. Cohan's appearance at this time will constitute his farewell as an actor to the local stage and this, together with the fact that his myriad following are anxious to bid him adieu upon his almost miraculous escape from death, when the automobile in which he and his 16-year-old daughter George, and their party were in a collision outside of Hartford, Conn., on September 4th, last, furnishes a reason for the prediction that a rushing welcome awaits this well beloved actor-author.

Mr. Cohan's admirers are anxious to see him in "Broadway Jones," which they have been told is the best example of comedy writing he has so far produced. The play is a comedy that like all others that have come from the same source, it is clean, wholesome and laugh-compelling.

In "Broadway Jones," Mr. Cohan, who will enact the central character, is a young man from a small town in Connecticut, who upon falling heir to a fortune, goes to New York where his wealth is quickly dissipated in the frivolities of Broadway.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Never has a better play been more splendidly interpreted than "Distracted" in the current week's production at the Merrimack Square theatre. It is one of the biggest productions ever presented by any stock company in Lowell, and has been received by large audiences with performances thus far this week.

The full strength of the company is used and a special and beautiful production has been provided with the most elaborate scenery and many superlatives. As usual the latest photo-plays are also shown.

THE KASINO

Twelve bouncing Teddy bears will be given away Thursday night at the Kasino. Every Kasino patron will receive a ticket, and each ticket will have a number, and there will be 12 lucky numbers. As for the quality of the Teddy bears, it may be said that they are of excellent ancestry, and their behavior is exemplary. They are unusually large for their age, but despite their size, a child may handle them with perfect safety. The Kasino believes in the best for its patrons, and any person not satisfied with the bear will may return the same for something of more value. Mr. Miller's new orchestra will play, and some novelties are promised.

THEATRE VOYONS

Tonight is the last chance that is offered to see the Kaleidoscope production in three reels "The Vampire" at the Theatre Voyons. This picture is one of the greatest hits of the year in Lowell and its strong story and wonderful production merits every bit of attention it receives. The dance by Bert French and Alice Elk is most novel and is finely done. The pictures of the Lowell military companies on their annual tour of duty are also attracting lots of attention.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Lowell people will be interested in the announcement that all arrangements have been made for the opening of The Playhouse, Monday afternoon of next week, under the new management, and with ample facilities to secure the best. The Playhouse will feature vaudeville and moving pictures, with innovations to round out the entertainment. The theatre is leased by Carl L. Braun, a Lowell man, and will be managed by J. H. Tebbetts, well-known in theatrical circles throughout the eastern states. Mr. Tebbetts states that he will endeavor to give Lowell people more for their money than they have been in the habit of receiving, and he gives assurance that only clean, wholesome entertainment will be the rule at the Playhouse. "I believe Lowell people will appreciate good vaudeville and it is our plan to set a standard for wholesome entertainment that will give the Playhouse a name far beyond Lowell's boundaries," said Mr. Tebbetts yesterday. "We intend to secure the best available, and our booking will be through a New York house of recognized standing. Our moving pictures will be the best that money can buy, and I am confident that their worth will find immediate appreciation in Lowell."

The Playhouse will give three performances daily from 2 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon, from 7 to 9 o'clock, and from 9 to 10:30 o'clock in the evening.

MURDER CHARGE

Baho Hiro, Arrested in Lawrence, Goes to Maine to Face Trial

LAWRENCE, Oct. 29.—Baho Hiro, who was arrested here Monday night charged with the murder of Kassem Souleyman at Topham, Me., left for Maine this forenoon in custody of Sheriff Wilbur Collier of Sagadahoc county, Maine. The local police at first suspected that Hiro might be connected with the quadruple murder in this city in the foreign quarter in 1912, but a woman witness in the case failed to identify him and Hiro has practically convinced the authorities that he was in Maine at the time of the tragedy.

DENIED HAVING ASSENTED TO POSTPONEMENT OF TUBERCULOSIS HOSPITAL IN WOBURN

At the hearing before the special committee of the house of representatives on tuberculosis yesterday, Dr. C. E. Simpson of Lowell, a state health inspector, positively denied having assented to the citizens of Woburn postponing the building of the tuberculosis hospital or dispensary. He showed from his reports that he had urged the city to take action in the matter of protection against the constantly increasing tuberculosis danger and that last December the mayor was notified by the state board of health that the law must be complied with. According to Dr. Simpson, no reply was received to that communication.

Chairman W. T. White of the Revenue selectmen, Dr. F. F. Andrews, chairman of the Woburn board of health, and Dr. J. E. Lamb, health officer, testified before the committee that the state board of health has not sent them any notice requiring a hospital or dispensary, but on the contrary has assented to an arrangement by which tuberculosis cases shall be cared for in the Woburn hospital.

Chairman Andrews said he had opened his office as a dispensary and had failed to receive a single application. However, he promises that a dispensary will be fitted up in the basement of the town hall.

The authorities of the town of Peabody failed to appear and unless some explanation is received they will be served with a summons.

After 30 years in Maine he moved to Everett, Mass., where he lived for a short time and married Miss Carrie Mann, coming to Billerica a few years later.

Since that time he has been active in town affairs and has been one of the most reliable speakers at all public meetings. He took part in many debates at both town and state gatherings.

DE LACY CORKUM DEAD

WELL KNOWN RESIDENT OF BILLERICA PASSED AWAY—SKETCH OF HIS CAREER

Mr. De Lacy Corkum of Billerica, widely known as an orator and politician, died late yesterday afternoon at his home on Main street after an illness of several weeks. His death will be regretted by a host of friends throughout the state as he was an accomplished and successful man.

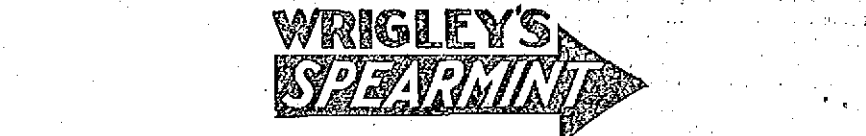

At a special meeting of Lowell nerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, held last night, 33 applications for membership were acted upon. This was the first batch of applications passed on, under the new dispensation, which was issued but a few days ago. The younger members were responsible for the greater part of this first lot of candidates, but the older members were found in their declarations that they would win out in the end in securing the largest number of desirable applicants.

The meeting was an interesting one and the plans for the great class initiation on the second Sunday in November were discussed in an enthusiastic manner. Worthy President Edward S. Flanagan spoke for a few moments, offering suggestions and inspiring the members toward the goal that is being worked for—the building of a permanent home for the organization. He declared that at no time did the goal seem to be nearer than at present and urged cooperation among the members toward that end.

"JAKE" CULLEN INJURED

Breaks Collar Bone in the Lowell-Malden Game — Will Probably be Out for Remainder of Season

"Jake" Cullen, captain of Lowell high's football team and one of the greatest tackles ever developed in the Kirk street school, received a broken collar bone yesterday in the game between Lowell and Malden high schools. The injury will undoubtedly keep him out of the game for the remainder of the season.

Yesterday's accident is the heaviest blow that the local team could expect.

line, Cullen broke through and nailed the runner in his tracks. His tackle was perfect, but when he dove for the man carrying the ball his collar bone came in contact with the other's knee and the bone snapped like a pipe stem.

Yesterday's lamentable accident to Capt. Cullen brings home the well-known fact among college football trainers that no player should ever be allowed to enter a scrimmage without wearing a set of heavy shoulder pads. It is very easy to break the collar-bone or to injure the shoulders severely by a hard tackle and every player should be protected against this contingency.

THE N.E. LEAGUE

Magnates Met in Boston and Transacted Considerable Business

At yesterday's meeting of the New England league magnates in Boston the usual post season business of the league was transacted and matters pertaining to the permanency of the league were taken up.

The board of directors for the ensuing year were awarded to Lowell, Portland, Fall River and Brockton. A committee, with his highness, Timothy Murnane, at the head, was selected to arrange an annual series of games with the winner of the New England league and the head of the percentage column in the Eastern Association.

Fred Lake, former Lowell magnate and ex-manager of both Boston ball clubs, was given a ten days' option on the New Bedford franchise. Lake will go through with his plans for a New England league club, it is said, if the price is satisfactory.

It was put to a vote and carried, that the rule which states that a game must start two hours before sundown shall not apply to double headers.

James Burckett sat back and grinned himself sick while this motion was under discussion. If Mr. James O'Brien had been present he would doubtless have done a more amiable grinning stunt for the day is still fresh in his memory when he pulled his Fall River club off the Worcester diamond on account of a few minutes difference between the start of the second game of a scheduled double header and the two hours necessary to exist before sundown. It was voted to convene the next meeting of the league on the afternoon of Dec. 4.

The Baraca Bowling league opened its winter season last night, two games being rolled off on the Brunswick alleys. The first Baptist rollers won easily from the Immanuel Baptist quietest and the Trinitarian Congregational team outrolled the five from St. Paul's M. E. church.

Kilpatrick of the Trinitarians put up the highest single as well as total for the evening. His second string reached at this time in the season, and his score for the three strings was 302. Burr, of the St. Paul five, was second-high man with two strings of 95 and a 50. The scores:

GUS LENNY WON

Beat Phelix McGuire at Newburyport—Will Come Here Friday

NEWBURYPORT, Oct. 28.—At the opening show of the season at the N. A. C. hall last night two good bouts were staged and the main event between Gus Lenny of Boston and Phelix McGuire of Beverly went the scheduled eight rounds, although Lenny came near ending this bout in the seventh.

Lenny's work was superior to his opponent, although McGuire showed flashes of brilliant fighting at times. Lenny was given the decision.

In the semi-final the members were treated to a fast bout, when Billy Edwards of Lawrence and Danny Gardner of South Boston went six rounds to a draw. Gardner gave a fine exhibition in the last two rounds, showing unexpected comeback form.

LENNY HERE FRIDAY

The matchmaker of the Lowell Athletic club has booked an all-star show for this week. As most all the boys booked this week have appeared on previous occasions, the members know just what to expect from them.

As Billy Brooks has been defeating all the local boys his weight with ease, it was necessary for the management to look out of town for a boy who could give him a good contest. Frankie Quinn of Lawrence has been secured and if all reports are true, Quinn should give a good account of himself in the first bout of six rounds with Brooks.

The second bout of eight rounds will bring together Eddie Carr of Beachmont and Young Brennan of Lowell. Larry Burns of Lawrence, one of the best boys of his weight, will stack up against Tommy McFarland in the third bout of eight rounds.

The final bout of 12 rounds will introduce a new face to local fans in the person of Charles Sheppard of New York. He has fought all the leading boys his weight around New York and has an excellent string of victories to his credit. Several weeks ago he outpointed Joe Morgan at Manchester. Gus Lenny of Boston will be Sheppard's opponent. These two boys recently fought a draw at Newburyport in a whirlwind bout and as each claimed a victory, they were refereed a draw. In addition to the above excellent program there will be a three-round exhibition bout between two clever local youngsters.

MALDEN WINS NEW INCOME TAX RALLY TONIGHT

Lowell High Beaten in Close Game — Score From Blocked Kick

Lowell high met defeat yesterday afternoon at the hands of the fast Malden high team by the close score of 2 to 0 in a game which was hotly contested from start to finish. Although the ball was in Lowell's territory most of the time the local team showed flashes of superior form over their opponents and if it had not been for a blocked punt in the third period the game would have ended in a scoreless tie.

Captain Cullen and Moehrie played a hard, consistent tackle game. The Lowell leader received a broken collar-bone in the last period. The work of both tackles was excellent.

The Malden backs played great football on the defense, stopping the majority of Lowell's plays in the last two periods. Brunelle, Powers and Bennett pierced the Malden line many times in the latter part of the game, only to be met with stonewall opposition by the opposing secondary defense.

The only score came on a blocked kick. Cahill dropped back to kick and before he could get off his punt the Malden linemen had broken through and were upon him. The Lowell end recovered the ball himself, however, being downed behind the shadow of his own goal posts. The play went for a safety and accounted for the two lone points in the Malden column.

In Hurley, Jeffries, Fitzpatrick and Norton Malden has a wonderful quartet of backfield men. The Malden rush line was as good as the backfield there is little doubt that the team would be the greatest power in the state. These players, in spite of the heavy going yesterday, are off several spectacular runs.

Brunelle was the stellar performer for Lowell in the backfield. On the soggy field covered with mud, Lowell's right half ripped off a twenty-five yard run that looked like a score for a few minutes and was only pulled down when his cleats refused to clutch the muddy playing surface. Brunelle's defensive work was also a feature.

Two More Sets of Regulations for the Collection Proposed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—There will be two more sets of regulations for the collection of the new income tax supplemental to those already promulgated and which related mainly to interest on bonds and other corporation obligations. The next set will cover collection of the tax at the source, under which corporations will deduct the tax due from their individual employees. The second set will contain general instructions for collections not already included in previous regulations.

Corporations are already preparing for deducting under the regulations as to collection at the source. Many interest-bearing coupons will be redeemable Nov. 1.

More than 3000 applications have reached the treasury for the 300 new positions created under the income tax law.

MORE WEALTH

And New Opportunities Predicted Under Proposed Currency Law

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Increased wealth and new opportunities were predicted for investment bankers under the proposed new currency law by Edmund D. Fisher, deputy comptroller of the city of New York, in an address delivered today before the Investment Bankers' association of America.

"The Glass-Owen bill will not prevent the investment bankers from borrowing money on securities during the time they are in his hands for placement with the ultimate investor," said Mr. Fisher, "but will remove the tendency to stimulate prices through a plethora of money market."

"Fairer opportunities through the development of business enterprise will come through a broadening demand for investment securities and municipal bonds will again take the place they once held in the investment market."

Democratic Orators are Engaged for Associate Hall—Other Rallies

The democratic leaders will be quite active in Lowell and the neighboring towns throughout this week, and the citizens will hear the final guns of the party in the state campaign.

Tonight at eight o'clock in Associate hall there will be a grand rally, according to an announcement issued from the headquarters in the Associate building this morning. At this the speakers will include Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston, John R. Murphy, of Boston, Congressman Peters, and Joseph L. P. San Cocur, candidate for state treasurer on the democratic ticket.

A whole lot of enthusiasm is expected to be turned loose at this rally. It will be a real treat to hear the popular mayor of the Hub. It was stated that Hon. David L. Walsh, gubernatorial candidate on the democratic ticket, and Frank J. Donahue, candidate for secretary of state, may arrive at the hall late in the evening and address the gathering. Mr. Walsh is at present touring elsewhere in the state and will, it is believed, make an especial effort to reach Lowell in time to speak to the democrats tonight.

There will also be a democratic rally in Harmony hall in Collinsville at 8 o'clock this evening and on the list of speakers are William J. Corcoran, candidate for district attorney, John J. Hogan, candidate for councilor, Mr. Brennan, candidate for representative from that district, and Senators Fisher and Draper, candidates for re-election.

On Thursday evening a rally will be held by the democrats in North Chelmsford and the speakers will include Mr. John J. Hogan, Senator Draper, William J. Corcoran and John E. Coker, candidate for county commissioner.

On Saturday night, there will be held open air rallies throughout the city and the surrounding towns at which the various candidates will speak.

This noon Mr. Corcoran and Mr. San Cocur addressed quite a large gathering at the gate of the Lowell Machine shops in Dutton street, discussing the various issues of the campaign and the position of the democratic party in the state campaign.

THE POSTOFFICE REPAIRS

WORK IS PROGRESSING VERY SATISFACTORILY—WILL BE COMPLETED BEFORE CHRISTMAS

The work of remodeling a portion of the second floor of the Lowell post office building is progressing rapidly and it is now believed that everything will be completed before the Christmas rush begins.

The partitions that separate the rooms formerly occupied by the deputy collector of internal revenues and the civil service examiners have been removed and the ceiling has also been taken down. It is intended to have an up-to-date room in this corner of the building to be used exclusively by the mailing division. This will give the carriers more room on the main floor and it is believed that the congested conditions will be temporarily relieved.

It is planned to have an iron stairway built from the main floor to the gallery and it is the wish of Postmaster Crowley and the employees that all the work be completed before Christmas.
